

8 KILLED, 100 HURT AS HOLIDAY TRAINS COLLIDE AT STATION

Wooden Cars Crushed in Chicago Wreck; Bodies Mangled.

ENGINEER IS BLINDED BY THIRD HEADLIGHT

His Locomotive Plows Into Coaches Discharging Big Vacation Crowd.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—At least 8 persons were killed and 100 or more injured tonight when a local train from El Roy, Wis., on the Chicago & Northwestern railway was plowed into by another passenger train of the same line from Madison, Wis.

The El Roy train was discharging passengers at the Cortland street station, 3 miles from downtown, when the Madison train struck it. The last two coaches of the El Roy train were telescoped, and it was in them that most of the deaths and injuries occurred. Both trains were composed of wooden coaches and were filled with passengers returning to Chicago after holiday outings.

As the crash occurred, a north-bound train with headlight blazing brightly, was said to have been abreast the train struck and that was given as the cause of the Madison train's engineer not seeing the halted train into which he drove. No one on the Madison train was killed.

Injured Cut From Debris.

The right-of-way was not torn up. The only property damage was the demolition of the two rear wooden coaches of the El Roy train. Scores of patrol wagons and fire apparatus were rushed to the scene of the crash. Acetylene torches and axes were used in cutting out injured persons pinned down by the wreckage.

Doctors and nurses from nearby hospitals were rushed to the scene and gave first aid.

One woman whose leg was severed was pinned down by wreckage and was released only after long minutes of agony. A man was pinned down by a beam, but it was believed his life would be saved.

The first body taken from the debris was that of a 2-year-old baby girl.

Man Escapes, Wife Killed.

The only body identified was that of Mrs. Bessie Simon, of Chicago, 43 years old. Her husband escaped death because just a moment before the crash he had walked toward the front of the train.

A huge wrecker was used to pull the roof off one of the coaches which had been telescoped and the arm of a baby apparently 1 year old, and the leg of a man and arm of a woman were found. The rescue workers hurried their efforts in hope of finding more victims alive.

First reports were that the boiler of the locomotive of the Madison train exploded, and that the wreckage caught fire, but they were erroneous.

Fortune Laidley, of Chicago, fireman of the Madison train, said he jumped when he saw the crash coming. The conductor in charge of the El Roy train was Richard Koepf, of Chicago, and the engineer, James Thompson, of Baraboo, Wis.

Warned by Yellow Light.

"We left Barrington, Ill., about ten minutes late," said Laidley. "Coming through Clybourn Junction, the station north of Cortland street, where we were scheduled to stop, I saw the yellow light. That was to warn us to slow up and proceed cautiously."

"Smith, the engineer, did slow up but the curve blinded our vision from the train on the tracks in front of the station. When we saw the train there he applied the air brakes, but they failed to stop us and then we tried the steam brakes, but there was not enough steam on them to bring our train to a stop."

Conductor Koepf, of the train which was struck, said his train was not scheduled to stop at Cortland street.

"I got orders to stop at the last minute," he said. "It was because of the heavy holiday crowds we were carrying. There were nine coaches on our train and all wooden. There were 700 persons aboard and for the most part they were

Court Committee Accepts First 3 U. S. Reservations

Change in Method of Electing Judges Is Necessary, But Special Group Agrees—Assembly Speakers Admit League Has Crisis.

Geneva, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The special committee of the world court conference having under consideration the American reservations to adherence to that body is understood to have decided at a secret session today to recommend acceptance of the first three of the American conditions. Sentiment appears to increase as to the likelihood that all the reservations will eventually be approved.

There was considerable discussion over the second reservation, which assures the United States the right to participate in the election of the judges of the court. The whole spirit of the deliberations was an endeavor to arrange a formal acceptance so that the United States will have nothing to do officially with the League of Nations, the delegates believing that this best meets American wishes.

Since article 4 of the world court statutes declares that judges are to be elected by the council and assembly of the League of Nations, the committee decided that this article must be amended to permit American participation, but that the amendment should be made later in consultation with the United States after it adheres to the court.

It is probable that the assembly will be asked to adopt a resolution authorizing the United States to vote in some form.

The third reservation relating to the expenses of the court proved difficult because the budget of the court is part of the general budget of the league of nations. This will probably be settled along the line of Germany's contribution to the expenses of the International labor bureau. Germany makes a private contribution without involving the financial mechanism of the league of which it is not yet a member.

The formal admission of Germany to membership in the league of nations will be the chief business of the seventh assembly of the league which opened its sessions today.

Dr. Eduard Benes, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia was temporary chairman and M. Ninichitch, foreign minister of Yugoslavia was elected president. In his salutatory address M. Ninichitch said:

"The forthcoming entrance of the great nation of Germany will give new confidence to the League of Nations."

Like Dr. Benes, the president told the delegations of the 49 countries represented that world peace could be made certain only by progressive development of the league.

"If we really wish to keep the peace," he added, "we must constantly proclaim on high our conviction that peace shall henceforth be unshakable."

Both speakers admitted that the league was passing through a crisis, but they believed that it would

DAUGHERTY'S TRIAL IS TO BE SPEEDED, BOTH SIDES AGREE

Former Attorney General and T. W. Miller in U. S. Court Today.

SELECTION OF JURY WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

Two Charged With Fraud Plot in Returning Stock Seized in Course of War.

Special To The Washington Post.
New York, Sept. 6.—Harry M. Daugherty, formerly Attorney General of the United States, and Thomas W. Miller, formerly alien property custodian, will go on trial tomorrow before Judge Julian W. Mack in Federal court on charges of conspiring to defraud the government in connection with the return to German owners of assets of the American Metals Co.

The indictment, found May 1, 1926, charges Daugherty and Miller with "conspiracy to defraud the United States out of their honest, impartial and unbiased services as government officials."

The indictment was the result of many months of investigation by Emory R. Buckner, United States attorney, and his assistants, aided by the Department of Justice.

At a conference held recently between Mr. Buckner and counsel for the defendants, it was agreed that no postponements or delays of any kind in the trial would be countenanced. With the setting aside of all demurrers, motions to quash the indictment, and special pleas in bar, only the selection of the jury remains to complete preparations for the first trial in the history of the United States of a Federal official holding such an office as Daugherty's on a criminal charge alleged to have been committed in his tenure of office.

Palmer Seized the Stock.

The history of the case dates back to the period of the war, when A. Mitchell Palmer, then alien property custodian, seized a majority of the stock of the American Metals Co., of New York, as German-owned property. The company itself had reported that the stock was owned by aliens.

Officers of the company swore that they were registered owners of the stock for the Metallgesellschaft and Metallbank, German companies, and for members of the Merton family, of Germany. The American Metals Co., originally founded with German capital, was known as the American branch of the German trust, owners of similar branches in other countries.

This stock was later sold by the alien property custodian, and the $7,000,000 or so of proceeds, consisting of cash and Liberty bonds, was held by the Treasury of the United States for the alien property custodian in trust, credited to the former German owners.

In 1921 a Swiss corporation known as the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metaux, made formal claim to the alien property custodian, then Col. Miller, for delivery to the Swiss of the $7,000,000 proceeds. The Swiss based their claim on the ground that the German owners had orally transferred their

MUSICIANS' STRIKE HITS 400 THEATERS

Chicago Movie and Vaudeville Put on Holiday Shows Without Music.

Chicago, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The click of the projecting machine was the only accompaniment to motion-picture shows in 400 Chicago theaters today, while vaudeville actors performed without orchestral patter.

Three thousand musicians abandoned the pits, the pipe organs and the stages, obeying a strike call issued by the Chicago Federation of Musicians after a last-minute failure of compromise efforts.

Labor day audiences, only an eighth as large as customary, saw "pictures without music," at prices cut one-third, and the movie houses journeyed a generation back toward magic-lantern days, with unorchestrated pictures and the insertion of two-reel novelties to fill out abbreviated programs.

Chicago, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The Farnese palace was begun by Cardinal Alexander Farnese (afterward Pope Paul III) from designs by Antonio da Sangallo, the younger, and was continued after his death in 1549 under the direction of Michelangelo. It was completed in 1580. The materials were taken partly from the coliseum and partly from the theater of Marcellus.

Bath of Cathedral Opposed in Paris

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
Paris, Sept. 6.—The move to give old Notre Dame a sand bath to restore the structure which time has grayed over the whiteness of which its thirteenth century builders were so proud, has raised a storm of criticism in Paris.

Although an elaborate apparatus was prepared to give the cathedral a bath without injuring the lacy stonework or priceless statues, M. Ratier, the architect in charge of the church, announced today that not a stone of the old gray pile would be touched.

TWO POISON ATTEMPTS SEND WIFE TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Alice Burrows, 24, Refuses Treatment After First Dose of Drug.

SKIDDING AUTO WRECKED

Mrs. Alice Burrows, 24 years old, 1024 Wisconsin avenue northwest, was taken to Emergency hospital last night in a serious condition following two attempts to end her life by swallowing poison in her home, police reported. She narrowly escaped serious injuries when the automobile which was taking her to the hospital skidded at Twenty-sixth and K streets northwest, breaking a rear wheel when it collided with the curb.

Mrs. Burrows first attempted to end her life, police asserted, when she swallowed several poison tablets following an argument with her husband, John Burrows. Burrows summoned an ambulance from Emergency hospital.

Dr. Joseph Larkin responded with the ambulance, and realizing the seriousness of Mrs. Burrows' condition, advised that she be taken to the hospital. Mrs. Burrows, Dr. Larkin said, refused to be taken from the house. Dr. Larkin, unable to persuade her to receive treatment at the hospital, or at her home, departed.

A short time after his departure, police said, Mrs. Burrows swallowed three more of the poison tablets. Her husband this time notified police of the Seventh precinct. Sergt. E. S. Allen and Private Burke, of the Seventh precinct, responded and found Mrs. Burrows unconscious.

They placed her in Burrows' automobile and started for the hospital. The accident occurred while they were making a turn at Twenty-sixth street. Following the accident they placed Mrs. Burrows in a taxicab and continued to the hospital.

Famed Farnese Palace Is Struck by Lightning

Rome, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The Farnese palace, most magnificent of all the Roman edifices built in the early sixteenth century, and now occupied by the French Ambassador, was struck by lightning today. The bolt caused a fire, which was soon checked.

The Farnese palace was begun by Cardinal Alexander Farnese (afterward Pope Paul III) from designs by Antonio da Sangallo, the younger, and was continued after his death in 1549 under the direction of Michelangelo. It was completed in 1580. The materials were taken partly from the coliseum and partly from the theater of Marcellus.

WISCONSIN VOTING TODAY IS FEATURED BY FIGHT ON COURT

Senator Lenroot's Stand and Madison "Ring" Are Issues.

FOUR OTHER STATES WILL CAST BALLOTS

Oddie, in Nevada, and Moses, in New Hampshire, Are Opposed for Seats.

Five Republican senators are up for nomination in the primaries, which will be held in as many States today.

Senator Irvine L. Lenroot is seeking renomination in Wisconsin. Senator George H. Moses in New Hampshire, Senator Tasker L. Oddie in Nevada, Senator William M. Butler is a candidate in Massachusetts and Senator Ralph H. Cameron in Nevada.

With Senator Cameron unopposed and Senator Butler assured of nomination, interest in tomorrow's voting centers in Wisconsin, New Hampshire and Nevada.

The fight between Senator Lenroot and Gov. Blaine over the nomination in Wisconsin has become a bitter struggle in which the stalwarts are trying to crush the La Follette organization, which is supporting Blaine. Senator Lenroot is looked on here as likely to be defeated. Senator La Follette—"Young Bob"—is leading the Blaine forces against Lenroot. Also, there is a bitter struggle over the governorship between Herman L. Ekern, who has the La Follette support, and Secretary of State Zimmerman.

Coolidge Support Involved.

The New Hampshire fight, which has become more and more acrid as it has gone on, involves the question of support of President Coolidge to some extent. Former Gov. Robert P. Bass, candidate for nomination against Senator Moses, charges Senator Moses with opposing the policies of President Coolidge in a number of respects.

Senator Oddie, in Nevada, is opposed by former Representative E. E. Roberts, father-in-law of Walter Johnson, of baseball fame. Interest is felt in the outcome of this contest among the Republicans of the State and also in the Democratic contest in which Raymond T. Baker, director of the mint in the Wilson regime, is a candidate.

The Georgia primaries will be held Wednesday. Interest in them centers in the fight for the senatorial nomination between Senator Walter L. George and his opponent, Chief Justice Richard R. Russell of the State supreme court. Judge Russell has attacked the vote of Senator George for the world-court resolution.

Blaine for Wet Measure.

Milwaukee, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Candidates for a United States senatorial toga have furnished Wisconsin voters with the world court issue as the chief debating point in the primary election to be decided tomorrow, and the question of amending the Volstead act has been minimized, although either candidate has agreed to be governed by the actions of his constituents.

Gov. J. J. Blaine has declared he

BRITISH WAR VESSELS IN BATTLE ON YANGTSE

Chinese Open Fire From Banks of Stream; Casualties Reported to London.

SHANGHAI RIOT FEARED

London, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The admiralty today announced the receipt of dispatches from China saying there had been some casualties on H. M. S. Cockchafer and the armed auxiliary Kiara when the vessels were fired on from the bank of the Yangtze river. There were no further particulars.

Shanghai, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—A private message received here from the Japanese steamer Taichi Maru, while returning to Hankow after sailing for Ichang September 2, reported witnessing a battle near Huachungkuang, 50 miles up the Yangtze river from Hankow, between the British gunboat Scarab and Cantonese troops.

The southern troops opened fire with artillery from both river banks. The Scarab accepted the fire and went into action with all guns. The outcome of the exchange was not disclosed as the Taichi Maru was endangered and turned back, followed by other foreign steamers.

Conflicting reports seem to indicate that the southern onslaught at Wuchang is indecisive, although the Cantonese evidently hold their positions there while continuing strenuously to direct an offensive toward their main objective, which is the capture of Hanyang and the arsenal there.

Police Commissioner Barrett issued a public warning through the newspapers today of the possibility of a radical labor outbreak in the streets tomorrow. He said that foreign police defense units would employ every measure to preserve peace.

A year ago tomorrow, September 7, 1925, British police were compelled to fire on 2,000 Chinese engaged in a demonstration in Shanghai, wounding three. The outbreak was part of a series of radical demonstrations aimed against foreigners and especially the British.

FATE OF DICTATOR BELIEVED INVOLVED IN SPANISH REVOLT

Rebuff in League Is Seen as Blow to Prestige of Rivera.

MUSSOLINI FIGURES IN THE SPECULATION

Madrid and Rome Premiers May Be Collaborating in the Mediterranean.

FIRST LIVES ARE LOST IN ARTILLERY UPRISING

Seizure of King and Forced Abdication Reported Object of Plot.

London, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The situation in Spain at the present critical moment, possibly involving, as is believed here, the fate of Gen. Primo de Rivera himself, is arousing increasing interest.

It is thought not impossible that the rebuff which Spain experienced at Geneva in her failure to obtain a permanent seat in the council of the League of Nations may affect adversely Primo de Rivera's prestige, while strong curiosity is felt as to how far the Spanish premier and the Italian premier, Mussolini, may be working in conjunction to obtain ascendancy in the Mediterranean.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Hendaye, Franco-Spanish frontier, asserts that a plot to seize King Alfonso and force him to sign an agreement of abdication was frustrated only by the prompt suppression of the military revolt and the king's departure from San Sebastian for Madrid.

Plotting Were Republicans.

The plotters, who were Spanish republicans residing at St. Jean de Luz and other frontier towns, according to the Mail correspondent, were only awaiting news that fighting had begun between the rival military elements to cross the frontier in swift motor cars and make a raid on San Sebastian. They apparently hoped to find the police and loyal troops so busily occupied that the plotters would be able to reach the palace and seize the king.

Little news has been allowed to pass from Madrid beyond official and semi-official statements, but the official admission that there have been conflicts with casualties at some places seems to prove that the week-end coup has not been so peacefully ironed out as at first reported in official dispatches.

The situation is still obscure here, owing to the strict censorship imposed. According to dispatches to the Spanish embassy in London, the Madrid government has full control of the situation and the artillery officers everywhere are yielding to authorities.

Political Move Possible.

It still is not known whether there is any serious political move behind the action of the military juntas and reports reaching the outside from frontier points, such as Hendaye and elsewhere indicate that instead of yielding the artillery officers are persisting in their resistance and trying to enlist support from the noncommissioned ranks.

King Alfonso, who hastened to Madrid from San Sebastian yesterday to consult with his ministers, is expected to preside over another cabinet council tomorrow to decide on further measures and means to punish the recalcitrant officers. He then may return to resume his holiday, but as to this Premier Primo de Rivera declined to say.

The dispatches received by the Spanish embassy in London represent the situation in Spain as improving and say that the government has not found it necessary to employ troops to enforce the submission of the mutineers and also that the supreme military court is opening proceedings to enact penalties.

There is yet no confirmation of the reports that the navy is supporting the artillery, nor of many other sensational reports spread of the danger of the dynasty. Nevertheless, Primo de Rivera's acquiescence to the demand for a plebiscite made by the Patriotic union is regarded as realization by the premier that it would be well to hear the voice of the people. This union was founded by Primo de

VETERANS DEPLORE FRENCH DEBT STAND AT LAFAYETTE RITE

Mute Parade of Disabled Soldiers in Wheel Chairs Darkens Tribute to Hero.

SECRETARY WORK TELLS OF FRENCHMAN'S LIFE

Army, Navy and Marine Corps Join to Honor Aife of Washington.

The 169th birthday anniversary of the "boy general" of the American Revolution, Marquis de Lafayette, who cast his fortune with the American cause after hearing a reading of the Declaration of Independence in Metz, France, was observed with elaborate ceremonies yesterday morning at the Lafayette statue in Lafayette square.

The illustrious Frenchman, whose name has linked the destinies of France and America and has served for more than a century as a band of friendship between the two nations, was honored with wreaths of flowers, while speakers paid tribute to him in stirring words of praise.

The principal speaker was Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work, who laid a wreath at the feet of the statue in the name of President Coolidge.

Remarks protesting against the demonstration of French veterans who criticized the American debt policy at the foot of the George Washington statue in Paris were also heard. W. S. Clark, liaison officer of the Rasmussen chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, declared that although a few years ago the world was "thrilled by that immortal remark, 'Lafayette, we are here'—today, we who expressed that thought, ask, 'Lafayette, are you there?'"

Parade in Wheel Chairs.

A touch of pathos was introduced when a score of disabled veterans, two of whom were in wheel chairs, paraded by the statue in mute protest against the recent French demonstration. It was better done, being silent, for words could not have been so expressive. The small group of veterans, however, oddly contrasted with the 12,000 who joined in the demonstration in Paris.

Secretary Work, in his address, recalled an impressive utterance by Lafayette on the occasion of a reception in his honor in this city on New Year's day at a public dinner in 1825.

"Gen. Lafayette," he said, "proposed this toast: 'To the perpetual union of these States—it has saved us in times of danger—it will save the world.'"

"Some have said that 'patriotism is a refuge for the scoundrel,' but certainly it is the shibboleth of a higher civilization. Patriotism is born of the spirit, fostered by affection for the native land, and tutored by love for home."

Marine Guard of Honor.

The exercises were in charge of the District of Columbia Federation for Patriotic Observance. About 30 organizations, affiliated with the federation, took part.

United States marines acted as guard of honor at the monument. The Navy band, under the direction of Lieut. Charles Benter, furnished music. Dr. Thomas E. Green, of the American Red Cross, pronounced the invocation. Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph placed a wreath at the base of the statue for the Federation for Patriotic Observance, while the names of organizations were called their representatives placed floral tributes.

Capt. E. Lombard represented the French embassy, while the armed forces of the United States were represented by Admiral Edward W. Eberle, chief of operations of the navy; Brig. Gen. George Richards, of the marine corps, and Brig. Gen. Briant H. Wells, the army.

CITIES BITTERLY OPPOSE NEW CANAL BOULEVARD

Inland Centers Declared Vigorously Against Proposed Cumberland Route.

PROTESTING TO ZIHLMAN

The proposed canal boulevard from Cumberland to Great Falls will be vigorously contested by influences of Hagerstown, Frederick and other inland cities, it was learned yesterday.

Already protests from these places have been made to Representative Zihlman, chairman of the House District committee, and as a result Mr. Zihlman is having nothing to do with the project until it comes before him in the form of a bill at the next session of Congress. It is claimed by the opposing interests that traffic would be diverted from the main highway which now runs through the inland cities and towns. Aside from this opposition, there is to be that of the owners of the Chesapeake canal.

Inasmuch as Cumberland would be the only Maryland city of any importance to benefit by the project, it is more than likely that Mr. Zihlman will be influenced to work against the measure, and his opposition, it is held, would seriously endanger the project.

Woman Hurt in Crash.

Miss Mary C. Boggs, 35 years old, 1801 Sixteenth street northwest, was slightly injured last night when the taxicab in which she was riding was in collision with an automobile driven, police say, by James Beatty, 15 D street southeast, at Second street and Massachusetts avenue northwest. Miss Boggs refused hospital treatment and was taken to her home. She suffered slight injuries to her left shoulder.

HOLIDAY NEGLECTED BY UNIONS TO CARRY ON BUILDERS' FIGHT

Local Organization Devotes Day to Battle Against Alleged Broken Pledges.

THROGS OF TOURISTS TAKE LAST VACATIONS

Green Defends Principles; Morrison Upholds Congress, Belittles Mussolini Rule.

Local labor has been too busy with a campaign against nonunion tendencies here to devote the necessary time to arranging a Labor day celebration. Newton A. James, financial secretary of the Central Labor Union, said yesterday.

Because of this fact, the holiday passed unobserved by local unions. The central body prepared no program of any kind. And no report was made to the main organization by any individual union relative to a celebration.

The national holiday, selected out of the year to commemorate a religious quietness throughout the city, no important celebrations being held except the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Lafayette, which by coincidence fell on Labor day.

Battle Sidetracks Holiday.

Last year the members of the Central Labor Union observed the day by going on an excursion to the Marshall Hall. This year, however, the organization is so engrossed in its "fight to a finish" against "builders who have broken their pledges" that it has been unwilling to devote any time to holiday preparations, Mr. James said.

Certain operative builders, according to Mr. James, are employing nonunion labor when they contracted to employ union labor. Union labor here intends to fight its battle with the operative builders to a conclusion and has arranged a campaign which will carry on indefinitely, he declared. Among other things, blotters will be distributed among school children when school opens, in an effort to create a sentiment in favor of labor, he said.

The day was marked by the outtings of individual parties, the large turnover of passenger traffic at Union station and the double header at the American League park when the Washington team made its last appearance before local fans this year.

The rain and sun played tag during the day at the expense of excursionists and others who visited shore resorts and amusement places of the city. The rain in the morning drove the holiday crowds to their homes, and when the crowds went out again in the afternoon the

Mann Narrowly Escapes Encounter With Leopard

Zoo Director Mistakes Beast for Hyena in Darkness of African Jungles; Expedition Gathering Many Rare Specimens to Bring Here.

A narrow escape from the claws of an African leopard is described by Dr. William M. Mann, director of the Washington zoo, in a letter received yesterday from Tanganyika territory, where he is capturing wild animals as head of the Smithsonian-Chrysler expedition. This is only one of a series of exciting events which form the stirring routine of his daily life in East Africa, Dr. Mann writes.

Dr. Mann's near encounter with the leopard took place late at night. Leaving the shelter of his camp to frighten away an animal which he believed to be a hyena, the explorer heard the unmistakable growl of a leopard in the darkness. The sound came from the ground a short distance away. "Fortunately," Dr. Mann concludes, "I could not see to shoot. Had I fired and wounded the animal I would have been charged in the dark because a leopard always charges when hit." Dr. Mann sought the safety of his camp.

The party finds it difficult to sleep at night, owing to the roaring of wild animals, the director writes. Daily captures of strange beasts are being made by the expedition which has even obtained a specimen of the scaly anteater or pangolin, "of which there is no specimen in any American zoo."

Other captures include such curiosities as the poetic bul-bul bird, a very rare, white-headed vulture, enormous black and white ravens and a baby serval cat. A baboon, according to the writer, distracted his attention through persistent yowling and "finding fault with the world in a way that sets your nerves on edge," forcing him to close his letter.

weather repeated the process, with the result that the day was largely spoiled.

St. Swithin Still Active.

St. Swithin, however, was determined not to take a holiday. And to all appearances, he will have his 40 days of rain. The travel at Union station, it was reported at the station master's office, was unusually large, special trains bringing thousands of persons into the city, and other specials taking thousands away for a day at other points.

Many residents of Washington, who took advantage of the two and a half days' holiday to make a final summer trip away from the city, returned to the city last night, swelling the traffic on the roads and on trains. Labor day is some what epochal in the year. It marks the close of the summer half-holiday for government employees, and is in a way the first harbinger of fall.

Industrial peace and prosperity was the ruling note in the day utterances throughout the country. Lauds Labor Principles.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6 (By A. P.). General prosperity now enjoyed in the United States is intimately associated with and dependent upon high wages and a shortened work day for labor, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today at the Labor day celebration at the Sesqui-centennial exposition. As the application of power and mechanical devices to production increases output, he said, workers would expect to share fairly and equitably.

"Our country must remain a high wage country," he continued. "The living standards which we have built up will not permit a lowering of wage rates. The industrial supremacy of the United States must ever depend upon the efficiency and producing ability of American wage earners rather than upon low wages or living standards."

Madison, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—There is a wide-spread disposition in the American political field unjustly to criticize and belittle Congress, Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, declared today in a Labor day address here.

Condemns Fascist.

So important is the phenomenon, Mr. Morrison said, that labor leaders should link it up in their consideration of fundamental rights or institutions. The insidious attack on the legislative branch of our government is a stab at the heart of democracy. Note the slurs on Congress by newspapers whose record is a 100 per cent defense of privilege. Note the attempt to picture the Senate as a do-nothing, talkative body. This is in hope that a free forum will change to a controlled machine.

"The Mussolini idea of government—or, rather, lack of government—is defended in the interest of efficiency. There is no question that it will be efficient so far as privilege is concerned and that the few can satisfy their wants because the people will not be permitted to be informed."

Rockville Marriage Licenses.

Licenses have been issued in Rockville, Md., for the marriage of Arthur E. Croson, 26 years old, and Miss Frances E. Thompson, 18, both of Washington; George H. Atkins, 21, and Miss Elsie F. ## DISTRICT RIFLEMEN FIFTH IN GUN MATCH; MARINE TEAMS WIN

Capital Guard Fights Hard for Third Place in Seagirt Eastern Contest.

BEATEN BY NEW JERSEY AND MASSACHUSETTS

Fifth Regiment of Sea Soldiers Lead Marksmen With 807 Points in 900.

The District of Columbia national guard fought hard for third place in the Eastern regional team match at Seagirt, N. J., according to reports reaching the city yesterday, and did not fall to fifth place until the last few cartridges had been fired by District, Massachusetts and New Jersey riflemen.

The fifth regimental team of marines from Quantico, Va., won the match, with a score of 867 points out of a possible 900, and the First Marine corps regimental team took second place, with 782.

The fight for third place was spirited, but the closing shots placed the New Jersey guard team in third place, with 748, the Massachusetts guard fourth with 767, and the District team fifth with 766.

The 121st engineer team representing the District is composed of Capt. Clarence S. Shield, team captain; First Lieut. T. A. Riley, First Lieut. E. A. McAlister, Tech. Serg. Frank B. Kaye, Serg. H. E. Riley; Corporal George E. Votava, Private W. R. Lane. Capt. J. C. Jensen is team coach.

Capt. F. B. Bernsdorff, quartermaster corps, District national guard, and Capt. Jensen, guard ordnance department, took third and fourth places respectively in the guard division of the Gould individual rapid fire match.

2 Held, Liquor Found In Labor Day Raids

A series of three holiday raids staged yesterday by Capt. Guy Burlingame and a raiding squad from the Second precinct netted two prisoners, approximately 20 gallons of alleged whisky, 600 gallons of mash and a 50-gallon still. Those arrested were Michael Kladits, proprietor of a luncheon at 1539 New Jersey avenue northwest, and Raymond Clonnel, 1304 North Capitol street.

Seventeen gallons of assorted liquors were seized at a delicatessen store owned by Clonnel, Capt. Burlingame said. Clonnel was charged with illegal possession. Kladits was charged with illegal sale and possession when the raiders found 3 gallons of alleged corn whisky hidden under dirty water in the kitchen of his luncheon. Burlingame reported. The still and mash were seized at 922 O street northwest. The operator of the still died when the police approached, Capt. Burlingame said.

Man, Held, Charged With Biting Another

Leslie S. Steuart, 23 years old, of Great Falls, Va., was arrested last night on three charges of assault and one charge of intoxication, following a melee in front of a luncheon at 3506 M street northwest. Steuart, police alleged, attacked Joseph Kelly, an employee of the luncheon, and bit him on the neck and face. When Samuel E. Bowers, 111 Canal road northwest, attempted to intervene, he was seized by Steuart and choked, police said.

Preston H. Lowell, 3631 Canal road northwest, told police he was struck by Steuart when he attempted to free Bowers. Traffic Police-man T. B. Bewick placed Steuart under arrest. While waiting for the patrol to convey Steuart to the Seventh precinct station, Bewick was attacked by his prisoner, he reported.

50 DIE IN MOTION PICTURE THEATER FIRE

within a moment or so and great panic seized the spectators rushing for the door who had to pass through sheets of flame from the apparatus. Men, women and children were knocked down and trampled in the terrible rush.

The wooden building soon became a furnace. Some managed to get to the one door and hurled themselves down the narrow stairway. Some active young men climbed through a skylight and escaped to safety in the neighboring yard. A portion of the floor soon collapsed, dropping part of the spectators into the garage beneath, whence it was more easy to escape.

The fire burned itself out, and the building was completely destroyed. Most of the bodies recovered from the ruins were burned beyond recognition. Throughout the night rescuers were engaged in the task of removing the dead. Most piteous scenes were to be observed during this work because of the distress caused the bereaved owing to their inability positively to identify their own dead.

The bodies recovered include twenty women, ten men and ten children. One family on a holiday from London perished, six persons in all.

Some children who were thrown through the window escaped with bruises only. One young girl after clambering through the skylight fell from the roof and was killed. The man trying to descend from the roof by a waterspout fell and was badly injured. Both the operator of the projecting machine and the owner of the show were arrested.

RELAY CONTEST IS WON

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—A relay race for low powered commercial airplanes, a "Jenny" race, with national guards pilots competing, and a series of mishaps thrilled the more than 7,000 spectators who gathered at the city-owned Model Farms flying field today for the second day of the 1926 national air races.

The accidents, none of which resulted seriously, were due to the flying field, which has been turned into a quagmire by recent heavy rains. The mud in many places was six inches deep, making landing and taxiing difficult. Just as the

Snake Causes Collision Fatal to 3 Motorists

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—A snake at a railroad crossing was responsible for the killing of three motorists at Pocomoke today in a crash with a railroad train.

The snake was crawling across the highway near the crossing. William Altin, of Camden, N. J., driver of the car tried to dodge running over the snake and succeeded. In the momentary distraction he failed to see the approach of the Cape May flyer of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, which hit the auto squarely.

Rose McGannon and Anna Skinner, each 25, of Toronto, and William Williams, 5, of Camden, N. J., were killed. Altin and his wife, Ida, were seriously injured.

Another collision occurred at another point on the highway, where the train struck a car.

The team of three planes, headed by Basil L. Rowe, Keyport, N. J., handily won the relay race for the "B. B. T." trophy and a cash prize of $500. C. S. "Casey" Jones, of Garden City, N. Y., and A. H. Kreller, of Hagerstown, Md., were the other two pilots on the team. In this race, the passengers were required to race 200 yards carrying a pennant and tie it on the strut of the plane in the team which was to fly the next lap.

Exhibition Team Second.

The Luddington exhibition team, of Philadelphia, was an easy second. The Travel Air Manufacturing Co., of Wichita, Kans., made up of Fred Day Hoyt, Eureka, Calif., winner of the "on to the Sesqui" race; E. P. Lott, Kansas City and R. H. Dewey, New York City, who flew a Fairchild monoplane, was third.

The national guard pilots, The New York pilots won the first three places after a spirited contest.

Earlier in the day Capt. Victor Dallin, while landing in his Waco had the entire top of his ship cracked when it hit the United States mail De Havilland plane, piloted by D. Hill, found difficulty in getting off in the mud. The under-carriage of the De Havilland struck the Waco and cut half way through the wing within a few feet of Dallin's head. Shortly afterwards "Casey" Jones and Lieut. George E. Decourcy, of Philadelphia, while taxiing their planes across the field nosed over when their running gear stuck in the mud.

Parachute Leap to a Mark.

Sgt. James Pearson, of Mitchell field, N. Y., brought the spectators to their feet when he jumped from a Martin bomber from a height of 2,000 feet and fell nearly 500 feet in a free drop before opening his parachute. He was competing in a landing-to-mark contest. The contest was won by Sgt. Walter Hendricks, attached to the army squadron at the Sesqui-centennial exhibition.

Jack Loughner, Detroit, won the contest for airplane models. His model remained in the air 2 minutes and 21 seconds. There were 21 entries. All models were hand-launched, the only motive power being derived from the use of rubber bands. The models were limited to a wing spread of 40 inches.

Others awarded prizes and the duration of flight follow: Second, Joseph A. Lucas, Chicago, 2 minutes, 9 2/5 seconds; third, Bertram Pond, Perum, Ind., 1 minute 57 seconds; fourth, O. L. Westgate, Wembley, England, 1 minute 33 1/5 seconds; fifth, A. O. Henrich, Baldwin, L. I., 1 minute 34 seconds; sixth, W. H. Delancey, Springfield, Mass., 1 minute 22 seconds; seventh, Earl Nellis, Detroit, 1 minute 13 seconds; eighth, Robert Hayes, Detroit, 1 minute 10 seconds.

National Guard Race.

The New York national guard won the first three places in the national guard trophy race. First place was won by Lieut. Carl W. Rach, Staten Island, Lieut. Carl J. Sack, Staten Island, was second, and Lieut. Edwin Weatherdon, Staten Island, third. They flew JN-4 planes over a course of 84 miles. Lieut. George N. Hyland, Philadelphia, Penna.; Vanlan, national guard, was fourth. The winner's average time was 93.08 miles an hour.

EIGHT MEN ARE SAVED FROM SCHOONER AFIRE

Steamer Rescues Crew While Two U. S. Cutters Rush to Craft's Aid.

EARLIER HELP REFUSED

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 6 (By A. P.). Eight men were rescued from the burning four-masted schooner Albert W. Robinson, about 300 miles off the Virginia coast, last night by the Jugoslav steamer Izabran, according to a radio message received here today from the coast guard patrol ship Cushing, formerly the torpedo boat destroyer of that name. The men will be landed at Philadelphia, to which the Izabran is bound from the United Kingdom. Two of them were said to have been badly burned.

The Robinson, which hailed from Boston, was sighted early Saturday morning by the steamer Pawnee, with her sails and much of her rigging carried away and leaking badly, but her crew declined to leave the ship. The coast guard service was notified and the Cushing left New York and the cutter Mascoutin, Hampton Roads, to go to her rescue. However, in some manner not known here, the schooner caught fire before either vessel could reach her and but for the timely arrival of the Izabran probably all aboard would have lost their lives.

When the Cushing reached the schooner she was burned almost to the water's edge. No small boats were sighted and the Cushing sent out a message to nearby ships inquiring if the men had been picked up. The Izabran responded that she had all of the crew aboard. The Mascoutin was notified and headed back to Hampton Roads.

When the Pawnee spoke to the Robinson Saturday she found the schooner's supply of gasoline, with which the ship's pumps were operated, had been exhausted and the pumps were stopped. A small supply was put aboard and it is believed here that this in some manner became ignited, causing loss of the ship by fire.

The Robinson, it was learned today, suffered damage in a storm last Tuesday and had been drifting northward in the gulf stream since.

Grand Jury Begins
Lynching Inquiry

Douglas, Ga., Sept. 6 (By A. P.). The grand jury investigation of the lynching of Dave Wright, a white man, here last week, the first lynching in Georgia this year, began today.

Judge H. D. Reed, presiding in superior court, delivered a strong charge to the jury on law enforcement, citing the lynching as a horrible example of lawlessness. He appealed to the citizenry and to the grand jurors to cooperate in bringing the guilty parties to trial.

Discovery of tetraethyl lead, a so-called antiknock compound for gasoline used in internal combustion engines, Mr. du Pont asserted, if universally used, would be the means of cutting the consumption of gasoline by one-third.

"It is now certain," he said, "that the mileage of automobiles per gallon of gas can be increased 50 per cent by its use. If it had been universally applied in the year 1925, this would have resulted in a saving of some 3,000,000 gallons of gasoline. One may reasonably expect that this saving actually will be obtained within a very few years. It will, of course, require changes in automobile design."

Government chemists can not select alcohol denaturants to please the bootlegger, Dr. Harrison E. Howe, of Washington, a delegate, declared.

Denouncing the circulation of a poster characterizing a denaturant used by the government as poisonous, Dr. Howe asserted this denaturant was one of the most satisfactory from the standpoint of industry and the most objectionable from the standpoint of the bootlegger.

"Those responsible for the poster," said Dr. Howe, "seek to arouse such sympathy for the man or woman who will risk life for a single drink as seriously to embarrass the chemical industry in its many ramifications."

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Covering the distance of 12 miles, 2,200 feet in 19 minutes and 1-5 second, Glen Schultz, of Colorado Springs, today won the annual Pike's Peak automobile race from the foot to the summit of the famous mountain.

Chemistry May End Sleep, Irene du Pont Forecasts

Production of Race of Mental Supermen by Chemical Stimulation of Mind Not Impossible, He Tells Convention of Society.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6 (By A. P.). Sleep as a necessity for humans may be done away with entirely through the development of chemistry, Irene du Pont, of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Del., declared today at the opening session of the golden jubilee convention of the American Chemical society.

Pointing out that some adults sleep a greater number of hours than others, Mr. du Pont said it seemed likely this was due to some human systems requiring a longer time to work out poisons that accumulate.

"Would it not seem likely," he said, "that the reactions may be hastened by some catalytic agent or even that the antidote itself may be prepared and administered, thereby either decreasing the amount of sleep required or even doing away with the necessity of sleep entirely?"

Such a discovery, he said, would add more than 50 per cent to both our hours of production and of pleasure and would greatly decrease the cost of housing and of factory production.

That chemistry might become the means of creating a race of supermen and even change the nature of human beings, were prospects held before the 4,000 delegates by Mr. du Pont.

Certain drugs, he asserted, tend to stupefy and prevent humans from thinking clearly, while other drugs to some extent stimulate the mind.

"It is not possible," he said, "to suppose that there exist other compounds which might stimulate to a greater extent so that mentally the users would become supermen or geniuses."

"It is proverbial if one's liver is out of order, it definitely does affect one's outlook on life for the worse and there can be no question that the liver's function is essentially a chemical one."

Other organs and glands presumably have analogous effects, so much so that it does not seem to be unreasonable to suppose that one's character itself is the result of the sum total of certain chemical reactions taking place in the body.

"When the nature of this is understood we may expect that by injecting proper compounds into an individual we can make his character to order. If study and experiment can reach this result it would seem to be a short cut to the millennium."

2 KILLED, 65 SHOCKED AS BOLT HITS PARADE

16 Horses Fall Dead; Crowd
Staggers in All Directions
at Alabama City.

SEVERAL MAY BE DYING

Alabama City, Ala., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Alabama City's Labor day celebration was turned into one of mourning today when lightning killed 2 persons, seriously injured 5 persons and shocked 60 others. Sixteen horses were also killed. The flash struck in the center of town while Christy Brothers wild animal circus, feature of the celebration, was parading. The sixteen lead horses in the pageant fell dead and men and women staggered in all directions.

T. E. Bowling, of Alabama City, an employee of the Alabama Power Co., and an unidentified 6-year-old girl met instant death. The seriously injured persons were removed to a Gadsden hospital. Some of these are said to be in a critical condition.

The scores of persons slightly shocked received treatment in nearby residences and later were able to go to their homes.

No wild animals were loosed by the bolt, but great confusion resulted, in which a number of children were separated from their parents for a time. The lightning paralyzed temporarily the power supply of this town, Gadsden and Attalla.

Those responsible for the poster," said Dr. Howe, "seek to arouse such sympathy for the man or woman who will risk life for a single drink as seriously to embarrass the chemical industry in its many ramifications."

Adj. Gen. Milton A. Rockford has announced that bids for the erection of armories at Kensington and Silver Spring will be opened at Silver Spring the afternoon of Friday, September 17, and that building operations will be started promptly thereafter. The two buildings will cost around $100,000.

The young folks visited Rockville Sunday night to get married, but were unable to obtain a license.

A meeting of the United Democratic Law Enforcement Clubs of Montgomery County will be held tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Charles E. King, at Clarkburg, and Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Recreation hall at Takoma Park.

The Rev. Simpson B. Daugherty, of Washington, officiated at the marriage on Saturday of Robert L. Niles, of Williamstown, Mass., and Miss Ruby Belle Reid, of Washington.

In observance of Labor day the banks of the county and the court house offices were closed all day, and business generally throughout the county was suspended. The annual picnic for the benefit of the Gaithersburg council, Knights of Columbus, at Gaithersburg, was among the day's events.

Charm on Curriculum Of Trade Union College

Chicago, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Charm will have a place in the curriculum of a labor college at the opening of the fall semester. Miss Lillian Herstein, co-chairman of the Chicago Trade Union college, disclosed today.

Charm, according to the union college prospectus, is much more than a mere matter of looking pleasant and eating with a fork. "Lectures will be given," Miss Herstein explained, "on charm in dress, charm in interior decoration, charm in budgeting an income, charm in conversation, in literature, in health and friendship."

Some labor people frown on the idea, "but we're looking on the labor movement from a different angle nowadays," she explained.

First Bloodshed Occurs

Madrid, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The first bloodshed in Spain's latest military revolt was reported today. A lieutenant and a private were killed and a sergeant and a private wounded at Pamplona when they refused to surrender. All belonged to the artillery, in which section the mutinous movement also centered at Segovia and Valladolid.

(Pamplona, a fortified city and capital of the province of the same name, is 111 miles northwest of Saragossa.)

News of the incident was given by Premier Primo de Rivera to the newspapers. The premier added that it was hoped the whole affair would be settled by a council of ministers tomorrow under the chairmanship of King Alfonso, who raced back to the capital by motor car from San Sebastian when news of the revolt first became known.

Will Decide Punishment

The premier said the ministers would draw up the general lines of the punishment, apart from judicial penalties, which the government should mete out to those who had "put themselves outside the pale of the law."

No untoward incidents have been reported elsewhere than at Pamplona. Dispatches received in the capital indicate the subsidence of the movement everywhere.

It was announced this afternoon that Gen. Francisco Haro had been relieved as chief of the artillery section of the ministry of war.

In a statement to the Associated Press today Premier de Rivera said: "I have reported to the king the news of the day, and a cabinet council will be held tomorrow morning, with the king presiding. Clearly the present affair is but an incident. But we must lament the disorders which occurred in Pamplona. Arrests and submissions continue, and it is hoped all will be settled today."

Regiments Barricaded

Gerber, France, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The rebellious movement in Spain is general in the artillery branch of the army, according to authoritative news from across the frontier.

Information is that regiments have barricaded themselves in their quarters, making loopholes through which to use cannon and quick-firing guns against besiegers, if necessary.

Newspapers brought across the border this morning are devoid of news regarding the movement, but give explicit details of the organization of the plebiscite fostered by the patriotic union.

Labor Day Docket Keeps Judge at Work

Judge George H. Macdonald in the United States branch and Judge Isaac R. Hitt in traffic court had their usual dockets.

Postal Clerks Ask Decent, Livable Pay

Philadelphia, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Increased compensation for postal clerks was urged today at the convention of the United National Post-office Clerks Association by its president, C. P. Francis, New York. "We will not demand it; we will ask the Congress to see to it that we are given a decent, livable salary which I believe the founders of the republic intended we should have," he said.

Tribute was paid to Benjamin Franklin, founder of the United States postal system 150 years ago. Members, prior to the opening of the convention, assembled on the plaza of the Philadelphia postoffice and placed a wreath on the statue of Franklin.

Policeman Is Hurt Trying to Arrest Man

Policeman R. S. Smith, of the Ninth precinct, was treated at Casualty hospital last night for cuts on the eyes and face received in a scuffle with James Pinkney, colored, 32 years old, 642 Brewers place northeast, whom he had attempted to place under arrest.

Pinkney, according to police, had thrown an oil lamp at Eva Dorsey, of the same address, with the result that she was treated at Casualty hospital for lacerations on the face. When the policeman appeared Pinkney struck him a glancing blow with an ax, according to Smith. Then he attempted to gouge his eyes. The negro escaped.

The number of burghs polling this year will be less than three years ago, when 257 areas voted. In Glasgow, the center of the struggle, there are 37 wards, and the dries will challenge the licensed in 14, 8 of which have a restricted number of licenses.

MILLER-DAUGHERTY TRIAL OPENS TODAY; TO BE SPEEDED

entitled to have the claim to the property passed upon in the manner prescribed by law and regulation. These defendants are charged with having conspired to deprive it of this right, and, indeed, to have conspired to the conspiracy from motives of private gain.

The means by which the government is alleged to have been defrauded are not by violent or open acts, but by the secret waiving of those forms deemed by Congress and the department essential to a just determination of a claimant's rights.

Following his codefendant's plea of not guilty to the indictment on May 20, Miller followed suit and pleaded not guilty on July 8 before Judge Mack, who fixed bail at $5,000 and set the trial for September 7.

Miller Would "Answer Attacks"

Miller later publicly protested his innocence in an address to the press, in which he said: "I have stated a number of times that I desired an investigation, for then I shall be able to answer the many unwarranted attacks made on my four years' administration as alien property custodian, from which I retired voluntarily last year."

At the trial tomorrow Daugherty will be represented by Max D. Stuer, and Miller by former Judge Robert S. Johnston. Merton and the foreign defendants in the old indictment will have as counsel Martin W. Littleton.

It is expected that Mr. Buckner will try the case for the government through his assistant, Mr. Simpson, who persuaded Merton to return with him to this country. Others of Mr. Buckner's staff who will take part, it is supposed, in the prosecution are George S. Leisure, Thomas T. Cook, David W. Peck and Carl E. Newton, all of whom have been working on the government's case.

World Slowing Down, Professor Writes

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The moon is getting away from us, and the days are growing longer because the world is slowing down, according to "Starlight," a new book by Prof. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard observatory.

"The tides raised by the moon on the earth," writes Prof. Shapley, "are very slowly decreasing the earth's rotational speed, and thus lengthening the day—but less than a thousandth of a second a century."

Bridal Ships Sail For New Zealand

Southampton, England, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The romantic "bride ships" of colonial days are being duplicated in sailings to New Zealand, where there is an excess of 2,000 men over women. Almost every departing ship carries a number of husband seekers.

On July 7 last, Federal Judge Mack denied a motion to dismiss the indictment charging Miller and Daugherty with conspiracy to defraud the government. The motion, on behalf of Miller, was made by Robert S. Johnston on the ground that the statute of limitations forbade prosecution after three years.

But Mr. Buckner, through his assistants, William D. Whitney, Kenneth F. Simpson and Ben Hertzog, contended that the period had been extended by Congress to six years in all cases involving attempts to defraud the United States. As Mr. Buckner explained, Daugherty was himself responsible for the extension because of his appeal to Congress while he was in office.

In opposing the motion, Mr. Buckner maintained that while the defendants did not defraud the government out of any money, they had, by accepting a bribe, as charged, deprived the government of their disinterested services, and by this action had defrauded it.

In his opinion at that time, Judge Mack said: "The United States was

BODY OF VALENTINO REACHES CALIFORNIA

Remains Removed From Train
at Los Angeles Suburb to Avoid Crowds.

Los Angeles, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Rudolph Valentino, the screen's foremost lover, returned today, in death, to the land where he rose from virtual obscurity to unbounded fame.

His body reached the end of its journey from New York just before 3 p. m. Friends and picture comrades, fearing a repetition of disorderly scenes which occurred in the East, had the body removed from the train at Richfield Station, a suburban point, and taken directly to an undertaking parlor here.

Pola Negri, film actress, who was to have wed Valentino next year, left the train while the body was being placed in a hearse, and was driven to her hotel. She appeared to be in an extremely nervous condition.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills.

Wright's Companion Faces Deportation

Chicago, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The Journal said today application will be made for a deportation warrant against Olga Milinoff, Montenegrin dancer and housekeeper for Frank Lloyd Wright, architect. It will be sought at Madison, Wis., says the paper, by Vladimir Hinzberg, Olga's divorced husband, who is suing for the custody of their daughter, Svetlana, awarded by the decree to the wife.

Useful Memorials Favored by Pershing

New York, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Work of replacing with marble crosses the old wooden crosses which mark the graves of the 30,000 American war dead in France, is to begin soon, Gen. John J. Pershing, chairman of the battle-field monuments commission, said today. He returned on the Levithan.

Useful memorials, instead of ornamental ones, Gen. Pershing said, are favored by the monuments commission. He described the American cemeteries he had visited as well kept and "very beautiful."

A. L. Beaubien, liberal-progressive candidate, was declared elected by acclamation in Prevecher, Manitoba, when the two men carrying the nomination papers of Dr. D. H. McPadden, the government candidate, were so delayed by muddy roads that they reached the town too late to file the papers.

80 Miles an Hour—Unbelievably Smooth The Result of Chrysler Standardized Quality

There is a growing conviction among those who are accustomed to the utmost in motoring that not even the finest product of older manufacturing methods is comparable to the Chrysler Imperial "80". It is not to be expected . . .

For Chrysler builds the Imperial "80" for those who are sated with the performance of conventional cars.

Chrysler is not dealing in traditions—no matter how glorious those traditions may be. Chrysler is in the enviable position of emancipation from traditions, conventions and declining theories.

Chrysler genius for engineering originality and constructive forward thinking initiates a new cycle in the trend of motor car manufacture, the effects of which are apparent wherever you turn.

Chrysler's conception of quality has converted commonplace factories into huge laboratories where each individual unit is scientifically designed, manufactured and tested with unvarying accuracy and precision.

This is but an essential development incident to attaining the new and unique type of quality which is standardized—inexorably—in Chrysler manufacture, and which finds its supreme expression in the Imperial "80". And this it is—this Chrysler Standardized Quality—which makes your fingers literally tingle to get at the wheel of the Imperial "80" and experience for yourself the things you instinctively feel and see, if you please, when you look at the Imperial "80".

Your children can be safeguarded against these ills by wearing the naturally shaped Cantilever Shoe. Its flexible construction permits constant exercise of the important arch muscles. Its broad forepart assures straight toes.

NEVADA'S 1925 TAX HIGHEST PAID IN 41 STATES LAST YEAR

Ohio and Georgia Enjoyed Lowest Rate, Financial Survey Shows.

OREGONIANS SHOULDER GREATEST LOCAL DEBT

Cost of Various Governments Soared in 1925; Obligations Increased.

(By the Associated Press.)

It cost more in taxes to be a citizen of Nevada in the fiscal year ending in 1925 than of any other of 41 States for which financial statistics have been made public thus far by the census bureau.

Ohio and Georgia stood at the other end of the line. Per capita property and special taxes amounted to $1.79 in Ohio, $2.21 in Georgia, and $1.79 in Nevada. Per capita expenditures for maintenance and operation of general departments of the State governments, exclusive of payments in connection with public service enterprises, interest on debts and permanent improvements, were $4.67 in Georgia, $5.16 in Ohio and $25.75 in Nevada.

Oregonians, however, shouldered the greatest per capita State debt, $47.08, while Nebraskans, who owed nothing, and Floridians, whose share of such obligations was only 22 cents each, were best off in this respect.

Expenditures Greater.

Figures on the basis of preliminary statements from each of the 48 States disclosed expenditures for all purposes amounting to $1,614,562,230 during their fiscal years ending prior to January 1, 1926, compared with $1,513,628,021 in the preceding year and $512,323,000 in 1917.

Revenues of the 48 States from all sources totaled $1,485,242,240 in 1925. This was $375,703,981 more than payments required for general government expenses, but $129,319,890 less than gross receipts, including permanent improvements. Only 17 States obtained sufficient revenue to cover all outlays.

Calculated on a per capita basis, the cost of State governments, exclusive of expenditures for permanent improvements, rose to $9.20 for each citizen in 1925, from $9 in 1924, and $4.19 in 1917.

Total per capita revenue receipts of the 48 States were $13.19 in 1925, $12.32 in 1924, and $5.14 in 1917. Per capita property and special taxes, which produced 40 per cent of the gross revenues in 1925, amounted to $5.28 in that year, $5.20 in 1924, and $2.86 in 1917.

Net indebtedness of all the States increased to $1,251,702,639, or $11.12 per capita, in 1925, compared with $1,064 per capita in 1924, and $4.93 in 1917. Assessed valuation of property increased $4,850,932,000, to a total of $136,184,490,483.

World Accord Urged By Exchanging Ideas

New York, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Helen Willis, Gertrude Ederle and Bobby Jones "have done more than anybody can possibly realize to offset the opinion of the United States fostered by selfish and dangerous politicians of European countries," said John N. Willis, president of the Willis-Overland Co., of Toledo, Ohio, on returning today aboard the steamship Leviathan.

He urged that more such envoys be sent to foreign countries to create good will. He also recommended an international exchange of manufacturing and engineering ideas to bring about "world accord."

Ultra Violet Rays Make Chicks Grow

Newport, Shropshire, England, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Chickens which go home to roost do not get as much sleep as they did before ultra violet rays became a fad in poultry-raising circles here.

Young chicks have been made to grow twice as fast by the use of electricity, says Prof. Borlase Matthews, a poultry expert. Experiments have proven, he says, that young birds treated for nine weeks with the ultra violet rays at intervals during the day and night become twice as heavy as those not so treated.

Fannie Brice Wins Praise With Comedy Melodrama

Noted Star Triumphs at Shubert-Belasco Theater in "Fanny" as Play Marks Opening of Season in Capital.

David Belasco presents Fannie Brice in "Fanny," a melodramatic comedy in three acts, by Willard Mack and David Belasco, at the Shubert-Belasco theater.

Fannie Brice, Fannie Brice

Washington's fall theatrical season was officially opened last night by Fannie Brice, who in the synthetic comedy recently copied by Jack Dempsey, in a comedy melodrama that kept a capacity audience on edge during the entire performance. The play was written around, for and in behalf of Fannie Brice. No other star could possibly handle it, and any absence from the stage of the fair Fannie will close the show, for no understudy is possible.

Cast as the secretary to a sweet little old lady, whose brother, dying on his ranch in Arizona, has left a mysterious $50,000. Fanny, as Fanny Felbaum, a New York Jew, goes to the wide, open spaces to help her employer collect. Her employer, being in feeble health, it devolves upon the secretary to run the ranch. Fanny does it in a typical New York manner.

Her encounters with the cowboys (cow chasers, she calls them), furnish a rare brand of comedy from the start. A few days on the ranch convince her that she is in the midst of a brand of crooks, and this impression is heightened by the appearance of Nora Cassell, newspaper woman, capably portrayed by Ruth Dayton, who is in search of a feature story on a noted band of cattle rustlers supposed to be making their headquarters in that section.

How the man Fanny suspects of being the chief crook turns out to be a government detective, how she vamps the $50,000 away from the real crook, how she wins the man she loves, form the balance of the plot. And the poker game, where she wins back the month's wages just paid to the "hands," is a scream in itself.

The supporting cast is all that could be desired. The one scene is artistically designed and Fannie Brice, she dominates the entire play throughout, and her audience liked it last night, and she was forced to respond to curtain call after curtain call at the end of every act.

David Belasco, who is personally supervising the presentation of "Fanny" here, appeared with Miss Brice at the end of the second act and made his usual "I am very happy to present" speech.

"Fanny" is being presented at the Lyceum theater, New York, for an extended engagement, and its obvious merit should presage a long run.

RHEA DIVELEY PLEAS IN "DANCING MOTHERS"

National Theater Stock Company Shows Fine Acting in Jazz Age Play.

WHOLE CAST EFFECTIVE

Ever since Rhea Diveley joined the famous Brooke thespians she has been, so to speak, farmed out in mediocre parts and given no opportunity to star as an individual. However, in this land of make believe, things do have a way of righting themselves, and this same Miss Diveley is assigned a role in the current National attraction, "Dancing Mothers," that bids to compete with even so noble an effort as Percy Winter delineated as Lightnin' Bill Jones.

The Selwyn-Goulding piece, which Washington theatergoers will recall fondly through its two trips to the Belasco and its baptism in celluloid, gives the local stock folk an opportunity to do some really fine acting, and they do it in masterly fashion. The story, briefly, is about a very wonderful mother whose life is made quite unhappy by a jazz-crazed daughter and a merry-Andrew husband. There is a bachelor lady who plays the undertakes to modernize the mother; and how she does it, to the mutual satisfaction of everyone, is made manifest as the play progresses. The unhappy "happy ending" is the only sad part of the play, but, I suppose, this must be as the daughter; Romaine Callender is convincing as the selfish husband; Mrs. Hibbard as the hell-raising bachelor lady is fine. The new, leading man, Alexis Luce, is given opportunity to charm the hearts of the female contingent, which he does with much gusto. And a young lady known as Meri Florida is paraded as a vamp of no mean qualifications. Russell Field, who has been in the stock company since the beginning, is given opportunity to play a minor assignment.

Keeping up with their policy of producing bigger and better stock productions, the National Players and Miss Rhea Diveley have, as usual, gone one better this week, and the marvel of it is that despite the fact that the gong sounded on the waning summer season on Saturday night, the National Players are still doing a thriving business at the same old stand.

100 MANUFACTURERS AVERAGE $15,000,000 IN PROFITS YEARLY

Mammoth Corporations, Controlled by 1,500 Men, Get 30 Per Cent of 1926 Business.

700 CONCERNS TO NET
HALF OF ALL EARNINGS

Remainder Will Go to 90,000
Smaller Companies, 35,000
of Which Will Lose.

By William P. Helm, Jr.

One hundred mammoth corporations in the realm of manufacturing, returns to the Federal government disclose, are leading the entire pack of nearly 90,000 others in skimming the cream of 1926 profits in their respective fields. These giants of industry probably will average net profits of more than $15,000,000 apiece this year. They represent huge aggregations of capital, distributed among thousands of individual stockholders, and—on the basis of past performance—will get more than 30 per cent of all the manufacturing business done in the United States this year.

Probably not to exceed 1,500 men are in charge of the activities of these great concerns, determine their policies and direct the energies of their employees. This group of 1,500 men acts as trustees for the real owners, or stockholders, of their companies.

Another group of not to exceed 600 manufacturing corporations follows them in the magnitude of their operations. This second group of 600 companies will divide about 20 per cent of the nation's manufacturing business among them.

Record of 1923 is cited.

The two groups, not exceeding 700 companies, will take half or more of all the profits in American manufacturing this year. From $9,000 to 90,000 other incorporated companies, operating on smaller capital, will divide the remaining half of the profits. Out of these 90,000 concerns, however, approximately 35,000 will make no profit at all, but will wind up the prosperous year of 1926 with losses. Last the foregoing seem a bold prediction. It is pointed out that these conditions run parallel to exactly what happened in 1923 when our prosperity reached proportions which had not been attained before. In that year, 98 mammoth corporations made net profits totaling more than $1,350,000,000; 500 other large corporations made profits running to more than $370,000,000, and the 2 groups combined, 598 corporations, made net profits of $2,325,000,000, or more than one-half of all the profits made by all the incorporated manufacturing concerns throughout the country.

In 1923, the number of incorporated manufacturers was somewhat in excess of 85,000 and those which made no money at all totaled upwards of 31,000. Their losses ran to more than $700,000,000, as compared with profits of $4,271,000,000 divided among 54,000 successful competitors.

Manufacturing Has Expanded.

Such was the terrific toll exacted in the prosperous year of 1923 by inefficiency, inadequate capital, waste and bad judgment in the manufacturing business of the United States. It is a toll which has run fairly constant during the years of prosperity and has grown larger in periods of readjustment. Unless there has been a re-making of the manufacturing business overnight, the toll will be approximately as great in 1926 as it was in 1923.

Since 1923, the manufacturing industry of the country has expanded greatly in certain lines (and failed to expand in others) and in estimating the turn of business in 1926 allowance has been made for this expansion. Otherwise, the 1923 figures, taken from the ledgers of the companies themselves and reported by them to the bureau of internal revenue in the form of tax returns, stand as representative of conditions today.

Looking over the field of these returns, it is found that 37 mammoth corporations engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel, automobiles, machinery, electrical equipment, rolling mill and foundry products and miscellaneous metal manufactures, got nearly one-half of all the business done in their line (about $18,000,000,000 representing the whole) and made upwards of 45 per cent of all the profits.

The tax bureau does not disclose the names of individual taxpayers in making public the consolidated returns of their business, but in this group it is not difficult to pick the leading companies. Obviously the United States Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Ford Motor Co., International Harvester, General Electric, Western Electric and United Shoe Machinery will be found in that group.

The same group of 37 companies, possibly enlarged by one or two others, may reasonably be expected to duplicate their performance this year. They will get half of the business in their line, or thereabouts, and will make nearly half of the profits. Their employees, numbering several millions, and their little army of stockholders will share in the new measure of prosperity, as a matter of course.

Not to exceed 500 men will direct the affairs of this powerful group of companies. They, of course, are chosen by the stockholders, directly or indirectly. Another group of 155 large corporations engaged in the same line of manufacturing averaged somewhat more than $2,000,000 in profits apiece during 1923. This second group of corporations did a combined business of more than $2,000,000,000 that year. Combined with the first group of 37 supercorporations, they went into the competitive markets, and emerged with $11,000,000,000 worth of business out of a total of $18,000,000,000. The 152 large corporations in this line thus got about two-thirds of all the business, leaving the remaining one-third of the business to be divided among the smaller fry, consisting of more than 16,000 other corporations. And of those 16,000 corporations more than 6,000 operated at a loss during the year. The same proportion undoubtedly will hold for the present prosperous period, although the total number of corporations in this line undoubtedly is greater than it was in 1923.

Profits in Metal Making.

Thus in the metal manufacturing line, our present prosperity will be divided somewhat as follows: To 200 mammoth corporations, two-thirds of all the profits; to about 10,000 smaller corporations, one-third of all the profits; to 6,000 or more corporations, no profits at all, but losses (which mounted in 1923 to about $178,000,000).

In considering the figures, it should be borne in mind, of course, that the large companies represent the holdings of many thousands of men and women stockholders and that their prosperity is divided among these stockholders. But the brains of the business, backed by the capital, appear to be concentrated in 200 corporations, or fewer, out of a total of more than 16,000, and in active control of the affairs of the 200 companies is a group of not more than 3,000 executives and directors.

Those 3,000 men will emerge from the industrial conflict of 1926 with profits for themselves and their stockholders of considerably more than $1,000,000,000.

U. S. ANTIFASCISTI BACK CALLES' VIEW IN CHURCH DISPUTE

Convention Sends Message to President Asking Protection Here.

ORGANIZATION INDORSED
BY HEADS OF 2 UNIONS

Green, A. F. of L. Leader,
Says He Would Drive Fascism From the Earth.

New York, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—The Antifascist Alliance of North America today indorsed the stand of President Calles, of Mexico, and the position of the present labor government regarding the church.

The indorsement, which was telegraphed to President Calles, followed an address to the 500 delegates to the alliance's first annual convention by Roberto Haberman, general delegate of the Mexican Federation of Labor to the United States. Mr. Haberman, who said he represented Mexico's department of commerce, labor and industry, declared the present struggle in Mexico was not against religion or the Roman Catholic church, but against "the Catholic hierarchy which is using the tactics of the fascist against the cause of the workers in Mexico."

Moral and financial support of the anti-fascist was pledged by spokesmen for two unions, Morris Sigman, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers union, and Charles Erwin, editor of the Advance, organ of the Amalgamated Industrial Workers of America.

Message to Coolidge.

The annual convention dispatched a message to President Coolidge asking him to instruct the State Department to "protect the rights of antifascist" in this country.

The request was decided upon following an announcement before the 500 delegates to the convention, that the Armando Cassinelli fascist branch of Brooklyn had yesterday sent a message to the Italian Ambassador to the United States asking his aid in checking antifascist activities. The message to the President was signed by Dr. Arturo Di Pietro, chairman of the convention.

Green Opposes Fascism.

William N. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, would "drive fascism from the face of the earth."

"I am deeply in sympathy with the antifascist movement," he told the Antifascist Alliance of North America here last night.

"Fascism stands for repression and denial of freedom and democracy, and any movement which is seeking to deny the natural expression of the human race is an enemy to society. The American Federation of Labor stands for freedom and democracy * * * and it will be heard of wherever there is a movement to substitute autocracy for democracy."

In a speech at Carnegie hall Mr. Green said that in industry "the rule of reason now prevails. Force is a thing of the past and only to be used as a last resort."

Senator McKinley Remains Delirious

Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—No change was noted late today in the critical condition of Senator William B. McKinley, of Illinois, a patient at the Home Lawn sanitarium here since August 18. The senator was in delirium practically all day, a condition developing with his relapse on his 70th birthday Sunday.

Prior to yesterday the veteran statesman had clung tenaciously to life through two former crises and conversed with relatives on the eve of his birthday. Since last night his labored breathing and irregular heart action has occasioned considerable apprehension on the part of his attending physician, Dr. R. H. Egbert.

SCHOOL TIME IS NEAR.
The minds of educators are well awake to the fact, as ads in The Post every day confirm. Not the instruction courses announcements of today's classified pages.

UNITED STATES TUBES ARE GOOD TUBES

Some Questions and Answers about United States Water-Cured Tubes

Question—What is the Water-Cure Process?

Answer—The Water-Cure Process is a new method of curing or vulcanizing automobile tubes now in use in the United States Rubber Company tube factories.

Question—How does it differ from the old process?

Answer—During vulcanization heat and pressure must be applied to the tube. The old method used steam to supply this pressure and heat. The new method uses water under high pressure and at steam temperature.

Question—Why does this make a better tube?

Answer—In the old steam method the pressure could not be applied evenly. Small air bubbles were formed in the tube, each of which became a source of weakness.

The new Water-Cure Process eliminates the possibility of such bubbles by its heavy, even pressure. It also insures better union between the tube and the valve-base, and at the same time gives the rubber itself a finer, longer-wearing, more age-resisting texture.

Question—Can water-curing alone make a good tube?

Answer—No. A good tube demands good rubber, proper construction and proper splicing as well.

Question—How are these provided in United States Tubes?

Answer—The rubber used is Sprayed Rubber, the purest and most uniform rubber known. It is made from rubber latex from the United States Rubber Company's own plantations, by a process developed and patented by the Company.

United States Tubes are constructed of four plies of rubber. Most other tubes are made of one or at most two.

Splicing is done by a specially developed method, which not only assures uniformly strong splices but also limits the pressure and heat to the splice itself and does not tend to weaken the rest of the tube.

ARLINGTON COUNTY OFFICIALS TO SEEK TAX READJUSTMENT

Will Discuss Public Utilities
Assessments Before State Commission at Richmond.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION WILL BEGIN THURSDAY

Citizens to Appear in Support of Petition for Extension of Bus Lines.

ARLINGTON COUNTY
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Cl. 509. Clarendon, Va.
County Commissioners of Revenue
Harry K. Green, with State Senator
Frank L. Ball and Commonwealth's
Attorney William C. Gloth, will go to Richmond today, where they will appear before the State corporation commission for the purpose of having adjusted the assessments on public utilities in Arlington county.
Commissioner Green, who will remain in Richmond over Thursday, announced last night that while there he will call together the committee created at the request of the tax commission of Virginia for the simplification of taxation and codification of the tax laws of the State.
The committee, of which Commissioner Green is chairman, is composed of Commissioners of Revenue Omohundro, of Albemarle county; Nannill, of Norfolk county;
Edwards, of Southampton county;
and Trenary, of Winchester county.
Other members of the committee are Gov. Harry F. Byrd and R. Lee Moore, State auditor.
"The committee will hardly do more than organize and formulate plans for the holding of a series of meetings, at this time," said Mr.
Green.

With plans completed for the second annual convention and carnival of the Arlington Fairfax Volunteer Firemen's association which will open at Falls Church Thursday and continue through Saturday night, President James R. Mossburg announced last night that this will be the biggest event of its kind ever held here.

General Chairman Walter U.
Varney, in charge of arrangements, announces that there will be many special features at the carnival each day. On Saturday there will be a parade leaving from Potomac at 3 o'clock passing through Virginia Highlands, Arlington, Balliston, Clarendon, Lyon Village, Cherrydale and returning by way of Lee highway to the carnival grounds.

Proceeds from the carnival will be added to the firemen's relief fund.

The monthly meeting of the Lyon Village Citizens association will be held tomorrow night in the Lyon & Fitch office building on the Lee highway with President
Monroe H. Sockett presiding. The Rev. Perry L. Mittlell, pastor of the Clarendon Baptist church, will be the speaker.

According to an announcement made last night by George P. Dennis official county dog catcher, owners of dogs are warned that all dogs running at large will be required to wear a muzzle until October 1.

Plans are now being formulated, it was learned last night, for the carrying on of an extensive membership drive by the Business Men's Bible class of the Cherrydale Baptist church.

Supporting the efforts of the Washington, Virginia & Maryland
Coach Co. in its petition to the State corporation commission to extend their bus lines to Bon Air and Ashton Heights, it is understood that in addition to members of the board of directors of the Arlington county Chamber of Commerce attending the public hearing on the petition Friday at Richmond, a large delegation of citizens will
also attend.

Labor day yesterday in Arlington county was observed in the usual quiet way, with all county offices at the courthouse closed.
Hundreds of citizens left the county early on automobile trips, while a large number attended the baseball games in Washington.

The newly elected council of the town of Falls Church will at a special meeting Thursday night elect the treasurer and town clerk.

In addition to the election it is understood the council will pass on the school budget. The school committee have asked for an allotment of $6,000, which is $1,000 more than has been allotted in previous years.

The ways and means committee of Clarendon Rebekah lodge, No.
28, will serve a chicken dinner
Thursday night between 5 and 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows temple at Clarendon.

William Booth, giving his address as Balliston, was arrested last night by Policeman John R. Burke and taken to the Arlington county jail, where he is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He will be given a hearing today before Judge Harry R. Thomas.

Leipzig Sends Mayor
To Sign Bonds in U. S.

Leipzig, Saxony, Germany, Sept.
6 (By A. P.).—Because it is cheaper to send its burgmaster to New York than to hire an American notary in that city, Mayor Rothe has been given six weeks' leave with pay to go there and sign his name 7,000 times in connection with the American $5,000,000 loan to the Leipzig Municipal Electric Works.
The thrifty burgmaster figured it out that it would cost 25,000 marks to have an American notary sign 8,000 $1,000 bonds and 4,000 $500 bonds, whereas they could send their mayor to New York at much less expense.

Coffins of War of Roses, 400 Years Ago, Found

Beaulieu, Hampshire, England, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Three coffins, one of which contains the skeleton of a soldier killed 400 years ago in the War of the Roses, have been uncovered at Beaulieu abbey, in the heart of
New forest.

The soldier's coffin was made of oak and had endured the centuries well. The discovery astonished archaeological experts,
since it was not generally known that wooden coffins were used as early as the fifteenth century.

Although the records of the abbey long since have been destroyed, it was known that it was founded by King John in a moment of penitence. Henry VIII destroyed the abbey in 1539.

SHIP PASSENGERS RAISE $2,000 FOR SWIMMER

Miss Barrett Borrowed Cash
for Attempt; Wants to Be Concert Singer.

GREETED AT NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—
Miss Clare Beid Barrett "mortgaged her future" to obtain credit for financing her attempt to swim the English channel, which was made in the hope of earning money to realize her ambition of becoming a concert singer.

She revealed this on her return home aboard the steamship Leviathan today, when she was welcomed as a heroine despite her defeat by fogs and tides of the treacherous channel after she had been in the water 21 hours and 45 minutes and had swum a distance of 40 miles.

Miss Barrett said she had been studying for the concert stage for four years and in the hope of making money to assure her a musical career she gave her personal note on loans of $100 from each of twenty friends.

"In life we have only one or two chances to do something big," she said, "and I was willing to put my nose to the grindstone for the rest of my life for this one chance."

That she won victory in defeat was shown by the welcome she received on her homecoming and by the acts of hundreds of her fellow passengers on the Leviathan. Although she did not receive such an acclaim as marked the homecoming of Gertrude Ederle, first woman to swim the channel, she was applauded at the pier by a crowd of 500 persons, including a delegation of 150 prominent citizens of New Rochelle, N. Y., her home town. With a police motorcycle escort she was accompanied by the delegation to her hotel.

During the voyage across, passengers raised $2,000 and gave it to her to defray the expenses of the channel attempt. The fund was presented by Gen. John J. Pershing, a fellow passenger. The man who,
as commander of the United States army during the world war, had pinned medals of honor on many soldiers for valor and bravery, praised highly Miss Barrett's feat.

Flier Killed in Test Of Parachute Device

Havana, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—
Angel Arango, inventor of a combination parachute and buoyant belt, has been killed in a test of his device. Before a crowd of several thousand persons gathered to watch the test Arango yesterday stepped from an airplane about 3,000 feet up in the air above the Gulf of Mexico. The device failed to function as intended and Arango fell into the water and was drowned.
His body was recovered.

ALEXANDRIA'S FIRST SWIMMING CONTEST IS HELD UP BY RAIN

5 Events of Holiday Program
Delayed Until Saturday; Announce Winners.

SEASON OPENED FOR BIRDS AND SQUIRRELS

Catholic Schools Start Sessions Today; Police Court Docket Heavy.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU
124 N. Patrick St., Alexandria, Va.

The swimming races and diving contests at the Alexandria municipal pools yesterday were brought to an abrupt close by rain, after several of the contests had been decided, five of the events, which were interrupted after scheduled for run-off Saturday.

Miss Ruth Bryant, daughter of former Councilman Arthur Bryant, proved to be the champion, being first in three events, while George Gensmere was second with three wins.

The events and winners, in their order were: Men's 100-yard dash, won by William Schwartz; ladies' 50 to 60 yard swim, won by Miss Ruth Bryant; boys' 50-yard back stroke, won by Frank Purvis; girls' fancy dive, won by Miss Sarah Chilcott; 50-yard back stroke, won by Morton Knight; ladies' 25-yard back stroke, won by Miss Ruth Bryant; 50-yard dash for boys under 16 years, won by George Gensmere; 50-yard swim for girls under 15 years, won by Miss Mary Lannon; 25-yard dash for boys 12 to 13 years, won by James Smith; 25-yard dash for boys, 16 years or under, won by George Gensmere; 50-yard free style for ladies, won by Miss Ruth Bryant; plunge for distance, won by Herbert Bryant; 20-yard dash for girls under 15 years, won by Miss Frances Green; and the fat men's race, won by Leo Deeton.

There probably was not a bathing suit in Alexandria that was not on exhibition at the municipal pools yesterday. A space about four feet wide was roped off, immediately surrounding the main pool, and this space was packed with bathers, in ranks about six deep. The pool is 80 feet wide by 150 feet long.

The universal opinion seems to be that, despite the rain, this first series of public aquatic contests was a huge success.

The season for shooting reed birds, rail birds and squirrels is now on in Virginia, and Elliott F. Hoffman, clerk of the courts, has issued more than 100 hunting licenses, four of which were issued to non-residents. The price of the license for a single county, for a resident, is $1, and the charge for a State-wide license is $3. Applicants for licenses are required to show a receipt for poll taxes before the license can be issued. For non-residents the charge is the same as that imposed by the State in which they reside. Residents of the District of Columbia and Maryland are required to pay a fee of $10.

One of the largest dockets on record in the police court will be handled by Police Justice W. S. Snow today, due to the fact that there was no session of court yesterday. Up to last night there were 25 persons due for trial, 12 of whom have been incarcerated since Saturday night, being unable to furnish collateral for their appearance today. Last night there were 13 who had posted collateral. Of these 25, ten are charged with violating the city dry ordinance, eight with being intoxicated, with an additional charge of disorderly conduct in some cases, and several are charged with fighting.

U. S. EXPORT SHIPMENTS GAIN, EXCEPT TO EUROPE

Nation Sends Twice As Much to South America As in 1922.

ASIATIC TRADE GREATER

(By the Associated Press.)

Exports of American goods, especially manufactures, increased in the movement to every part of the world except Europe during the fiscal year ended June 30, Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has found in special survey.

The increase has been progressive over a period of four years, and the United States is now selling more than twice as much to South America as it did in 1922; more than two and one-half times as much in Oceania, which includes most of the Pacific territory, and nearly twice as much in Africa.

"Our exports to our neighbors on the north and south, Canada and Cuba, showed marked growth during the past four years," Dr. Klein said. "Apart from China and Japan, where the United States is fully holding its own, exports to the countries of the Asiatic Far East show quite as remarkable gain as those to South America or Oceania."

"Everywhere in South America the steady improvement of economic conditions coupled with better export policies among our exporters has multiplied the volume of our sales. Australia and New Zealand, English speaking countries with standards of living and economic environment very similar to those in our middle West, find American products increasingly adapted to their wants. Our sales to these two countries of nearly $200,000,000 in 1925-26 represented not much less than $30 per capita of their population. This figure is all the more remarkable when it is borne in mind that our own aggregate imports from the entire world amount to about $35 per capita."

Her Tragic Mistake

THOSE who knew her would have said: "Such things don't happen to girls like Marion." Certainly there was nothing in her character that was common or cheap. She was well educated; she had high ideals; her every thought and word were refinement itself.

Yet, in spite of her fine intelligence, her high ideals, she was to find herself subject to the same vicissitudes of Fate that pursue all mortals who blindly try to make right out of wrong.

It all started when, refusing to live idly on the inheritance her father had left her, Marion took a position in the office of a prominent law firm. It was there that she met and fell in love with Terry Dixon.

And there seemed to be no question that Terry returned her love. Twice he had been engaged to the wild, mad-cap heiress, Helen Carlson. Each time, for no apparent reason, she had publicly broken the engagement. And though Terry had been devoted to Helen, he swore to Marion that his love for Helen was dead.

But, all too often, as Marion was to learn to her sorrow, it is the unexpected that shapes human destiny.

While on an outing in the mountains with her fiancé, they were driven by a terrible storm to seek refuge in a solitary cabin and she had scarcely crossed the threshold when she found she had taken the first step into a world of terror, desperate conflict and peril that in later days she was to find almost indescribable.

What Marion went through during the terrible days that followed is vividly told by Marion herself in "Out of the Storm," which appears complete in True Story Magazine for October. Don't miss this thrilling, soul-stirring, true-life narrative.

"The Curse of Suspicion"—Once a humble worker in a shoe factory, Mary is today the wife of a millionaire whom she saved from drowning. At her command is every luxury that money and social position can provide. Yet, as she rides in her limousine down Riverside Drive in solitary grandeur, the face that haunts her day dreams is not that of her rich husband, but of Jimmy Donlin, foreman of a department in the factory where she used to work. If every girl and every woman could read this poignant story straight from the heart of a former factory girl they could not help but realize that true love brings more happiness than all the riches in the world.

"A Wife's Awakening"—Margo's marriage to Kendal Windsor was, she thought, the most glorious adventure in happiness that any girl could experience. But when, in the delirium of a dangerous illness, he revealed a terrible secret in his life, Margo suddenly found herself confronted by a situation that few women would have the courage to face. A strange, soul-stirring narrative.

Finds True Story A Great Help

Editor of True Story Magazine

Olar, S. C.

Dear Sir:

I have read several copies of True Story and being a minister of the Gospel I would hesitate indorsing any publication if I was not sure of its moral worth.

I do not hesitate to say that I find True Story a help to me in preaching and warning the young people whom I serve against the trials and temptations that await them in the school of life.

I think that if more mothers would provide this magazine for their girls to read we ministers would hear less of the sad stories of fallen girls. May God-bless you in your work of helping the young by warning them of the dangers in life that are controlled by that satanic power in the world today.

I commend you for your plan of having a Ministerial Board pass on your stories before being published.

If this is worth anything to you in carrying on the work you are engaged in I am glad to be of service and herewith give you permission to use this in any way you see fit.

With best wishes for your continued success, I am,

Yours very truly,

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD
From a Man of the World.

DEAR Miss McDonald: A word concerning that "Lizard" who boasts to his sweetheart of his triumphs over women, but why "The Lizard," since there is a name so much more appropriate, which, however, is but seldom used in polite society?

It is the name of a very pretty little animal whose presence is always powerfully unwelcome. Would that this human type were so quickly recognized so that silly women who fall so readily and, alas, so often, the victims of his "charms," would flee from his presence with the same celerity that men do from that of his animal brother.

Why do women, especially those of any refinement, and anything attractive about such animals as these men are? What genuinely womanly, pure-minded woman can be drawn to any man who boasts of his victories over the members of her sex? Can she believe that such a man can be trusted, should she be foolish enough to marry him, if he means marriage? Which he rarely does. He is naturally a liar and will manufacture stories of his victories when none have been achieved, thinking to make a hero of himself in some silly woman's eyes, when he but truly shows the state of his own bestial mind. Can there be a strain in a woman whom such a man attracts that makes her in mind, despite all seeming refinement, his immoral mate? Real men look upon such a creature as the "Lizard" with the contempt a gentleman once expressed for a young fool who at a bachelor dinner was loudly expressing his opinion that "every woman has her price." Whereupon the gentleman said: "Of course, Mr. Blank is referring to his own mother and sisters, not ours."

Like goes to like. The solidly good woman and the solidly good man are drawn to each other as steel to magnet. The woman demands purity in him equal to her own—her never to be questioned right.

Every woman should suspect and be on her guard against any man who seeks to induce her to smoke, drink, pet, go on wild parties and boasts of his good times with and victories over other women. Indeed, I advise her to cut him, at once.

A quiet life, with an untarnished name, filled with the pure joys of which there are so many for those who truly seek them, spent with a husband into whose eyes a woman can look, as he into hers, unabashed and unashamed, is worth vastly more in fact, is not to be compared with all the questionable "good times" of 1,000 lives so lived as to leave her with a heart burnt out, disillusionment, a scarred conscience and, perchance, shame—as well as regret.

With apologies to the little animal to whom it is an insult to compare the so-called "man" who glories in tales of the women he has seduced or destroyed—may I suggest to the hope that our girls may realize that such men are unfit to associate with humans, much less to be received by women.

OCTOGENARIAN. The octogenarian, with his virile philosophy and unwavering chivalry, may well be needed, for a gallant gentleman is he! A captain in our navy in his younger days, one knows that the experience of a real man of the world—one who knows men, and women—and the weakness and the strength of both. May we continue to have the benefit of such experience and such sound advice.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. W. A. EVANS

NEED FOR SNAKE SERUM.

L. W. sends an "A-P" report of a man who was bitten by a rattlesnake in the Cornell laboratory at Ithaca. The man was cured by rattlesnake serum rushed to Ithaca from New York city zoo. This serum was produced in the Brazilian government snake serum laboratory at San Paulo.

An unsigned article which recently appeared in the American Review of Reviews said that Dr. Pittman of the New York zoo was supplied each year by the Brazilian laboratory with about fifty doses of curative snake serum to use among his employees and to distribute elsewhere as he chose.

The Brazilian laboratory, we are informed, is arranging to conform to the United States laws, so as to place a line of scientific, dependable, snakebite cures on the American market. It is thought that these will be available by the opening of the next snake season.

The same article also states that Harvard university, the United Fruit company, and the Mulford laboratories are planning to manufacture curative snake serum in a laboratory in Honduras. Since all these institutions belong in the States, the probability is that their products can be obtained in this country, though the first object is to furnish supplies for the United Fruit Co. employees in Central and South America.

The American laboratories have not made these sera because so few people are bitten here that the demand for a cure is trivial, commercially speaking. The State health laboratories have been slow in manufacturing supplies of sera, partly because of the small demand and partly because of an exaggerated idea of the difficulties.

By next season the health departments in the regions where rattlers abound should have one or more depots for sera. If Ithaca can be successfully served from New York city, no State except Texas would need more than two such depots.

Much the most poisonous snake in Brazil is the bushmaster. To compare a rattlesnake with a bushmaster would be like comparing the all-mighty Hercules with a rat.

There are but few rattlesnakes in Brazil and other means of transportation are not of the best. In comparison the snake bite situation with us is trivial. We have but four poisonous snakes and only one of those has a heavy dose of poison. Our transportation is rapid. Our people are intelligent.

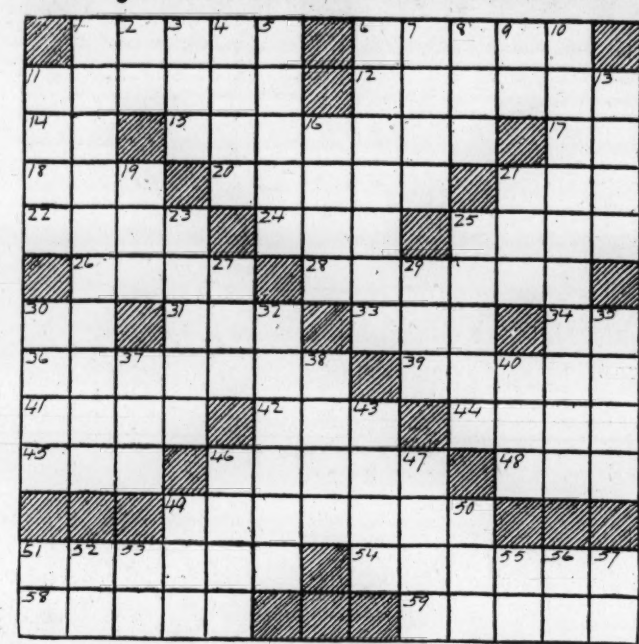

CHILD NOT IN DANGER. A reader writes: My little girl, who is 3½ years old, is perfectly healthy, but her urine gets dark yellow in color at times and has such a strong odor.

Could you advise me what to do to overcome this? Do you suppose the kidneys are weak?

REPLY. This is of no consequence. It may be due to a diet consisting largely of fruits and vegetables. Encourage her to drink plenty of water and milk, and let it go at that.

Conduct and Common Sense

By ANNE SINGLETON

THE SIMPLEST WEDDING.

THE simplest wedding is one where the young couple want the least show and the least expense. Short of being married by a magistrate, the most simple wedding might take place either at the house of the bride's family or in church. Suppose the young people are going to set off on their honeymoon directly after a small luncheon, following the ceremony. If they go to church the groom's family, the bride's family, the bride, the groom and the best man form the wedding party. The men may be dressed in business clothes, the women in plain, smart dresses and hats. They would probably all come into church together. The groom's family (as guests of the occasion) would take their places in the right-hand pews, and the bride's family (as hosts) on the left. The groom and best man would stand at the altar, the bride to the right, the bride with her father near by to give her away, would stand at the left of the groom. When the ceremony was over they would all go out together and get into their motors and taxis and have a pleasant lunch at the house of the bride's family. The bride's family would have made up his mind to pay. This, and the ring, and the bride's flowers (if she wears any), and a present to the best man are the only expenses connected with the ceremony which the groom has to bear. The trousseau and the opening of the church and the wedding reception are the affair of the bride's people. They fee the organist (if there is music), the sexton and the pew openers.

If the wedding is in the house the clergyman goes there. A reception is provided for him to robe in and the ceremony takes place in the living room or wherever he chooses to perform it. The families stand by in a group. The groom and best

RUTH AND PETER

By AHMED ABDULAH
(Copyright, 1926, Thompson Feature Service, Inc.)

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE. Ruth Wells, young, pretty and very ambitious, secured a position as secretary to Peter Barton, a distinguished New York lawyer. Then the thought came to her that, in certain ways, Nelda was like Malsie—Malsie, who was dead—rivalous, unthinking, light-hearted both!

Like moths! Ruth felt heartick. And, curiously, she felt heartick, not for herself, nor for Nelda, but because of Peter. Peter was so proud. Suppose there was—or should be—something really serious between Nelda and this man! Suppose Peter should find out!

And Meredith Dexter, living his austere adventurous life amidst Asia's and Africa's ruins. Meredith Dexter, too, was proud! He and Peter belonged to the same haughty, unbending stock—to the same family.

Why—suddenly the realization came to her—she also belonged to this family. She was Peter's wife. It was her duty—to do what? After all, nothing had happened. What could she say to Nelda?

Should she warn her? Nelda would either laugh, or, in a sudden access of haughtiness, tell her to mind her own business.

Or should she appeal to Meredith—Del Santa Cruz—as he called himself now? Should she threaten him with what she knew? But what did she know? She knew of his relations with Malsie. Nothing more. An expose of that intimacy would not harm him in Nelda's eyes. Ruth knew that. Nor had she any proof to connect him with Malsie's death.

So, the question, it seemed, were out of the question.

Should she, as a last resort, try and make a friend of him? Should she appeal to his generosity to leave Nelda alone?

She looked up, startled, when she heard her sister-in-law's voice. "A penny for your thoughts, darling!"

"Perhaps," said Del Santa Cruz, lightly, yet with an underlying note of melancholy in his accents. "Mrs. Barton is still debating whether or not I may call on her—after all, I am at once Ruth made up her mind.

Could you come for tea tomorrow?" she asked, and added: "Mrs. Dexter and I will be glad to see you."

But Nelda, for some reason or other, absented herself from the tea hour, pleading a sudden engagement which she had forgotten.

She did not mention that in the morning Del Santa Cruz had said to her: "Better not be there this afternoon, Nelda. I wish to win her over. I shall be quite frank with her, save as to the details of our early friendship—in New York. We have both agreed that on this point a white lie is best, isn't it? Leave your sister-in-law to me. She is a charming little person, but of course—slightly provincial."

"Oh, no!" Nelda had exclaimed with hesitating loyalty.

But Del Santa Cruz had laughed: "I like your championship. But the fact remains that the little Ruth is not exactly to the details of our early friendship—in New York. We have both agreed that on this point a white lie is best, isn't it? Leave your sister-in-law to me. She is a charming little person, but of course—slightly provincial."

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS.

THE SHAMPOO.

HOT olive oil or sweet oil applied to the scalp before the shampoo (preferably the previous night) is good alike for oiliness, dryness and dandruff.

Before washing the hair, douse it generously with plain warm water—this to remove or loosen surface dust.

Don't rub a bar or cake of soap directly on the hair or scalp. A liquid shampoo or a soap jelly gives the best results in the shampoo. They are more easily used, too.

Be sure to use a soap or shampoo preparation that lathers readily and richly.

A small amount of borax may be used to soften hard water; but an excessive amount would be drying to the hair.

A soapy nail brush, not too stiff, may be used to loosen dirt around the edges of the scalp, especially at the forehead and at the back of the neck.

Rinsing should be repeated again and again, until the water is absolutely clean.

Soft, warmed towels should be used to absorb all the excess moisture immediately after the shampoo. Sunshine is the best possible dryer.

Never touch a comb or brush that is not immaculately clean to freshly washed hair.

Tomorrow Viola Paris will discuss the care of the teeth during babyhood and childhood.

ROBERTS, CENTRAL GRID STAR, TO CENTER MARYLAND

Triple Threat Golf Army Chased to Cover MD. GRIDMEN To Bolster Freshmen By Storm; Brave Souls Play

Outstanding Star of School Series Will Join Old Liners.

Product of Sandlots Thought of Going to Princeton.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

"AUGIE" Roberts, Central high's backfield mainstay of the last fall, has enrolled at the University of Maryland, and will try for a position on the Old Line freshmen eleven, it is learned last night.

The outstanding player of the 1925 high school championship series, Roberts has announced his intention of entering Princeton university, but later changed his mind to be nearer home, it is said.

Maryland has already anticipated one of the strongest freshmen lineups in the history of the university, and the addition of Roberts should bring the first year combination up to expectations.

ROBERTS has all the essentials of a triple threat, being a brilliant kicker, one of the best ever turned out by a local high school—a skilled forward passer and a fine ball carrier, especially around the ends.

Although "Mike" Kelly, Central's coach, dislikes to admit it, Roberts is the product of the local sandlot gridiron, where he served his apprenticeship with the Crescent A. C. He played there "discovered" in his senior year at the Mount Pleasant school.

Roberts is of the school; and although he sizes up as light for varsity material now, can be expected to take on the necessary weight by his first varsity year.

Keystoners on Air

From WRC Tonight

The Pennsylvania Keystoners, popular radio entertainers, will again provide the headline feature of WRC's program at 8 o'clock to-vis, formerly one of the WRC Players.

Through a rearrangement of

WRC's schedule, Mrs. Nina Reed, formerly heard in the late afternoons, will present her weekly discussion of "Things Talked About"

at the beginning of tonight's evening entertainment. Mrs. Reed's talk will be given at 6:40 and will be followed by a sports resume at 6:55.

Dinner music will be played for an hour between 7 and 8 o'clock by W.

Spencer Tupman's Hotel Mayflower

orchestra, and an hour's dance program will be played by the Meyer

Davis Le Paradis band from 9:45 to 10:45 p. m.

The Post Housekeeper

Home Efficiency Service

WE very much appreciate your letter, Mrs. Scheidegger, and welcome your suggestions. It would be difficult for us to plan in a column not any more extensive than is our particular column for the dietary of children, for up to a certain age, that is to say, while they are really children, their diet is quite different from that of grown people, as you doubtless know. The green vegetables suggested in the menus may safely be a part of the diet of children almost without exception. We are going to share your recipe for honey cake at once.

Honey Cake.
 1/2 pound honey.
 1/2 pound sugar.
 1/2 glass hot water.
 Stir these three ingredients well together, and add three egg yolks. Stir in enough whole wheat flour to make a usual cake batter. With

Spiced Cheese Pudding

Recipe

2 eggs.
 1 cup of milk.
 1/2 cup of sugar.
 2 slices of stale bread.
 1 cup C. F. D. Cottage Cheese.
 1/4 teaspoon soda.
 1/2 teaspoon salt.
 1/2 cup seeded raisins.
 1/2 teaspoon allspice.
 1/2 teaspoon maple.
 1/4 teaspoon cloves.

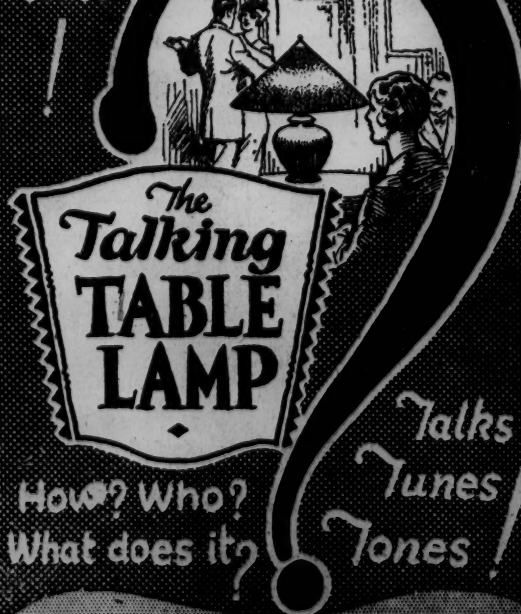

Cut bread into cubes and place in greased baking dish. Beat yolks and whites of eggs separately. Blend with the yolks the milk, salt, sugar and cheese, to which soda has been added. Add the spice and chopped raisins, and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour this mixture over the bread and bake like a custard in a moderate oven.

WALL STREET GOSSIP
 New York, Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—Automobile manufacture calls upon the cotton textile industry annually for more than 226,000,000 square yards of this fabric alone, approximately $63,000,000 being paid for the material, says the Association of the Cotton Textile Merchants of New York. This item, however, is only one of many cotton products used in the manufacture of a completed car. The manufacture of 4,326,754 motor vehicles in 1925 called for the use of 108,950,000 square feet of imitation leather for tops and coverings, the whole basis of which is cotton.

The Federal Water Service Corporation, controlling an extensive system of waterworks companies throughout the country, has acquired the Sterling Water Co. of Sterling, Ill., as a step in rounding out its middle Western group of properties. The Sterling company owns and operates the waterworks system that serves the cities of Sterling and Rock Falls. It has storage capacity of 1,250,000 gallons.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6 (By A. P.).—A charge that the engineer of the scenic limited, Denver &amp; Rio Grande Western passenger train which crashed into the Arkansas river near Granite, Colo., Sunday, carrying 23 persons to death and injuring 50, declared before he died that the train was running too fast, was made here today by Mr. Bruenski, a survivor of the wreck.

No statement was forthcoming from the headquarters of the railroad here as to the cause of the wreck.

The only announcement of an official nature, made immediately after the crash, was that the train was returning to Denver from its maiden run to Salt Lake City, had dragged five coaches into the water, was that the train was running too fast around the curves.

"I helped carry Harpending out of the wreck of his engine, and we laid him down in one of the Pullmans that was still on the tracks," said Bruenski, who said that he and his fellow survivors were frightened, and that those around him knew he could not survive.

"One of the men in the party—I think he is connected with the Rio Grande, asked Harpending, of Salda, if he had any relatives, and he said that he had relinquished the throttle a moment to the traveling engineer and was lighting his pipe. He said that he remarked to the traveling engineer: 'You're hitting too fast around the curves,' and a moment later the train crashed."

G. M. Lillis, of Salda, the traveling engineer, is among the dead.

Reports from Salda, where the more seriously injured were taken to a relief train shortly after the wreck, were that all are expected to recover. The dead were taken to Salda and Leadville, where identification was made.

At the Denver &amp; Rio Grande hospital, at Salda, where the bodies of the dead were being kept, it was said that a baby not old enough to talk, whose parents are believed to have been killed. Efforts to identify the child thus far have been unsuccessful.

Workmen at the scene of the wreck today were still cleaning their way through the tangled masses of steel and debris that barred access to the innermost portions of the crushed coaches in search for more bodies.

The bodies of Mrs. G. D. Isabel and her 15-year-old daughter, Ruth, of Buena Vista, Colo., were taken from the wreckage of a coach today. George Isabel, a son, had not been found. The body of Mrs. E. G. Perschbacher, also of Buena Vista, was recovered from the same coach.

The body of George M. Gearhart, engineer, of Salda, who was on the train, was taken from the river. It is hoped that he will be recovered dead, making no change in the death toll of 23. Two unidentified bodies are said to remain in one of the coaches still in the river.

Many of the survivors, not seriously enough hurt to require hospital attention, were brought to Denver today.

Trying to Pick Up Hat

In Road Costs His Life

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Sept. 6.—Attempting to retrieve a hat he saw lying in the middle of the road caused Thomas Jones, of Edgewood, to lose his life yesterday on the National highway, near Boones Mill.

He was riding in an automobile driven by George Franklin. Franklin slowed down as he approached the hat and Jones swung out of the car, tripped and fractured his skull striking the concrete surface. He died in a Roanoke hospital.

BEACONS TO GUARD CAR-LOADING ZONES THROUGHOUT CITY

Moller Wants Heavy Pillars to Ward Off Intoxicated and Reckless Drivers.

WOULD FINANCE SCHEME
WITH FEES FOR PERMITS

Problem of Extending Installation of Light Towers to Be Left to Eldridge.

Extension of installation of flashing beacons on heavy concrete bases to embrace every street car loading zone in the city, was planned yesterday by Acting Director of Traffic I. C. Moller, following injury to a woman by a "hit-and-run" driver who hurtled over the platform at Eleventh and G streets northwest Sunday night.

"If drunk or reckless drivers crash end on into spaces equipped with the beacons," said Moller, "they will smash their machines and kill themselves."

Two difficulties are involved in the wider use of beacons. One is to finance them. Moller believes that, in view of the frequency with which loading spaces are being struck, the delay of waiting for Congress to appropriate money to buy the beacons should be avoided. He wants to install them at once.

This can be done, he says, if the Congressional authorization of expenditure of fees for renewing auto drivers' permits for electric traffic signals can be so construed as to include flashing beacons. Moller says they certainly are electric traffic signals.

Artistic Design An Issue.

The other difficulty embraces the terms of the traffic recently entered into between Moller and the commission on fine arts. When a week or so ago, a motorist swept over the loading zone at Connecticut avenue and L street northwest, the assistant director of traffic induced the chairman of the commission to suspend insistence on artistic beacons and permit temporary installation of the kind now in use at Dupont circle until a design less offensive to the esthetic eye could be created.

This agreement only ran, however, as to Connecticut avenue, for the loading zones on which street the District commissioners already had issued orders to equip them with beacons, the money for the purpose being in hand.

Whether the arrangement can be broadened to include all loading zones in the city and whether the permit fees can be utilized to pay for the beacons, are problems left by Moller to be faced by his chief, Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge, who returns to day from his vacation of two weeks.

Director's Power Questioned.

Revocation of automobile drivers' permits in advance of conviction in court is another problem that will face the traffic director. The number of appeals from Eldridge's revocations is said to have raised a question in the minds of the commissioners and other District officials whether there have been too many revocations.

Prior to the extension by Congress at the last session of the traffic director's authority to revoke permits, the question was raised whether one official should have such drastic power. Especially in the citizens' advisory council the question was debated with considerable spirit, and that body refused to recommend the change until Eldridge agreed to appeals to the commissioners and the courts from his decisions.

Notwithstanding the feeling that revocations in advance of conviction should be approached with caution, revocations have been many. Some permits revoked have had to be restored. It is deemed not unlikely that Director Eldridge, after hearing what has happened in his absence, may want to revise revocation procedure, with a view of slowing the process.

Another half-solved problem undertaken by Moller in Director Eldridge's absence is the elimination of the cables and stanchions that have decorated the intersection of Fifteenth street and New York avenue northwest, preventing through traffic for any but street cars and westbound motor vehicles at that point.

Await Action by Eldridge.

By agreement between Moller and Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, complete use of the intersection by vehicles, except that eastbound machines were still compelled to turn south, instead of driving through, was tried experimentally for three days last week.

Both Moller and Maj. Hesse expressed themselves as pleased with results and plans were announced to order illuminated traffic signals for the corner, with a view to keeping it open. Pending erection of the signals, the cables may be used during rush hours, to eliminate need for more policemen at that point than police officials wish to assign. Eldridge's approval will be required, however, for pursuance of the plan.

Director Eldridge is scheduled to appear tomorrow night before the traffic council to defend his proposals to increase the speed limit to 30 miles an hour on certain boulevards and to extend the electric traffic signal system. Definite recommendations on both points, submitted by him to the commissioners, were, by order of the latter, sent to the traffic council for advice.

Officers Motor to Convention.

C. O. Howard, national commander of the Army and Navy union, accompanied by other officers of the organization, left by motor yesterday afternoon to attend the national convention in Philadelphia.

Dog Dying of Grief Over Lost Companion

"Irish," a 2-year-old setter, belonging to Maj. Stanley Koch, stationed at the Washington barracks, is dying of a broken heart. For more than a year, "Irish" and "Red Dog," another setter owned by Maj. Koch, have been inseparable companions, enjoying all the joys of a dog's life together. There had been no sorrow for "Irish" until Thursday morning, when "Red Dog" disappeared. Mrs. Koch, who offered a reward of $50 for the return of "Red Dog," declared that "Irish" is wasting away and unless his companion returns home, is fearful that she might lose both of her pets.

POLA NEGRIS 'PHYSICIAN' SPONSORED FATIMA HERE

"Dr. Wyman," Who Gave Engagement Interview, Was Arrested as Fakir.

HOLDS ORIENTAL DIPLOMA

The "Dr. Sterling Clifford Wyman," who recently gave out an interview in New York to the effect that Pola Negri and Rudolph Valentino were never engaged, which in turn elicited the actress' admission that they were not engaged in the general meaning of the term, has developed to be none other than the man who sponsored Princess Fatima in her celebrated audience with the late President Harding.

After Pola had gone her apparently grief-stricken way to the West with Valentino's body, Dr. Wyman, who had been accepted as her personal physician in New York, said George S. Ullman, Valentino's manager, had told him that there was nothing to the reported betrothal of Valentino and Pola. Pola was reported as saying she and the screen lover did not believe in engagements, but theirs was a great love nevertheless.

Now it develops, according to New York city advisers, that the "doctor," known better to Washingtonians as Ethan Allen Weinberg, just intruded on the Ullman-Negri funeral party, and every time she would pass out, he would produce smelling salts. Ullman took him for his face value and rode around in a machine which Weinberg placed at his disposal.

Cornered by New York reporters, Weinberg is said to have told of serving twice in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary. Local folk know of one term, for impersonating a naval officer. He produced a lot of diplomas as a doctor, one of them said to be from the late Oriental university here, whose founder, "Bishop" Helmut P. Holler, is in retirement at the Atlanta penitentiary.

Weinberg said he is a "medico-legal" expert now, practicing in Brooklyn.

THIEVES WORK HARD OVER THE WEEK-END

Jewels, Money and Merchandise
Valued at $1,400 Gone
As Holiday Closes.

Theft of jewels, money and merchandise approximating $1,400 in value, was reported to police yesterday.

Mrs. George K. Nichols, 2310 Connecticut avenue northwest, told police that Jimmy thieves entered her apartment Sunday afternoon while she was away and stole jewelry valued at $900. Articles stolen included a $300 solitaire diamond ring and a $600 jeweled diamond pin.

Also $173 was reported stolen from an open safe in the Lincoln theater, Thirteenth and U streets northwest, yesterday morning, and Roger Chase, 1213 N street northwest, told police that $60 was taken from a chiffonier drawer in his home Sunday.

Others reporting thefts were Ethel Cooper, 1331 V street northwest, $29; Miss Fannie Holmes, 227 First street northeast, clothing valued at $60; Lynn Hamm, 302 I street northwest, clothing valued at $60; John Ellarbrook, 2624 Connecticut avenue, jewelry valued at $80; and Lagunes, 730 Ninth street northwest, $20 in merchandise.

INQUEST TOMORROW FOR TROLLEY VICTIM

Judge Phillips to Preside at Inquiry Into Death of Robert McCullough.

An inquest in the death of Robert McCullough, 21 years old, of Berwyn Heights, Md., who was instantly killed when run over by a Branchville street car early yesterday, will be conducted by Judge George J. Phillips, acting coroner, in Berwyn tomorrow night.

While waiting for the car at Powers Addition station, McCullough apparently had fallen asleep on the track. The street car cut his body in half after dragging it for several feet. He had been visiting Don M. Leary, College Park, Md., his employer, leaving Leary shortly after midnight with the intention of catching a 12:19 car.

W. L. Sibley, 608 Ninth street northwest, motorman, and R. E. Kidwell, 2435 Third street northwest, conductor, have been summoned to appear at the inquest. McCullough is survived by his mother, Mrs. Anne Smith, and two brothers, Thomas Smith and Paul McCullough. Requiem mass will be said at the Church of the Holy Redeemer, Berwyn, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Baltimore.

POST RADIO SPEAKER TELLS OF WOMEN'S PENAL INSTITUTION

Dr. Mary B. Harris Describes
New Government Industrial Home at Alderson.

STUDENTS ENTERTAIN
WITH VOCAL NUMBERS

Market Site Editor Talks on Latest Developments; Dr.
Silver Speaks.

Every method and means of rehabilitation found effective in State penal institutions will be applied in the government's first industrial penal institution for women, now under construction at Alderson, W. Va., Dr. Mary B. Harris, superintendent of the institution, told listeners-in at The Post radio hour last night, broadcast from station WRC.

Each vestige reminding of penal incarceration will be eliminated under the plans of the Department of Justice. There will be no walls and no guards at the new institution, modeled in small units around a 500-acre tract. The greatest possible latitude will be given the inmates in fitting themselves for a fit return to society, Dr. Harris declared.

Miss Frances Fallon, contralto, and James A. Barr, tenor, accompanied by Miss Ruth Linder at the piano, featured the diversified program. Miss Fallon and Mr. Barr, the latter displaying a voice of wide range and charm, sang a group of solos and duets. They are students of the Paul Bloeydon studios, and have made popular appearances in local concert and stage productions.

Speaks on Market.

The market-site editor of The Post declared the most significant development in the discussion a new market site for one or more of the divisions of the Center market district has been the emergence of the District commissioners from their period of silence on the subject.

Always a vital factor in the solution of the problem, Engineer Commissioner Bell has proposed reducing the farmers' market to one-half its present size as a temporary expedient, and appealing to Congress in December for a permanent solution, he declared.

No child can grow and develop facilities in a normal manner without the full use of the five physical senses, Dr. Edwin H. Silver, president of the Columbia Optical Co., and chairman of the motor vision committee of the American Optical society, declared in a discourse on the importance of having children's eyes examined before entering school.

A child should be able to start off in school full speed ahead instead of being slowed down for weeks or months before defects are discovered, Dr. Silver declared, and the only way to correct this growing evil of seemingly latent defects in the child's sight is to have the eyes examined before starting to school.

The Columbia trio, Ivalie Newell, violinist; Frank Westbrook, cellist, and Katherine Crowley, pianist, who frequently played last winter in the studios of WCAP, added to their popularity last night by their rendition of several selections from the compositions of Victor Herbert. Miss Elisabeth E. Poe, of The Post, gave another one of her "Be-comes-Acquainted-With-Your-City" talks for the children.

MARYLAND KNIGHTS DEFY RAIN TO TILT AT SUTLAND FETE

Tournaments and Carnivals
Mark Labor Day Celebrations in Prince Georges.

C. A. HUNGERFORD WINS;
JAMES F. LOVE, SECOND

Representative Gambrell and Frank Parren, of Aquasco,
Speak to 2,000.

Two thousand persons braved the inclement weather to attend the tournament held in celebration of Labor day in Suttland, Md., yesterday. The celebration was under the auspices of the Suttland Improvement association.

The knights who ran the course did so in the rain, but the tournament was a success despite the weather. C. A. Hungerford, of Marshall Hall, riding as knight of Charles county, won first prize, and crowned his wife queen of love and beauty at the ball that followed. The first prize was $40.

James F. Love, of Beltsville, riding as knight of Prince Georges county, won the second prize of $30; L. D. Love, his brother, riding as knight of Maryland, third prize of $20, and L. Atchison, of Laurel, riding as knight of Limberlost, fourth prize of $10.

Name Maids of Honor.

The last three winners received the privilege of naming the maids of honor. However, James F. Love gave his crown to James B. Bland, of Suttland, and L. D. Love his crown to Page Bowie, of Mitchellville.

Representative Stephen W. Gambrell, of the Fifth Maryland district, delivered the charge to the knights. The coronation address was delivered by Frank Parren, of Aquasco. Harry Lusby was chief marshal. His aids were Lee Humphrey and Robert Lusby. The judges were Elmer Humphrey, R. F. Bradbury, Benjamin Randall and Harry Crosier.

An old-fashioned chicken dinner was served under the direction of a committee headed by Mr. Bland and Mrs. George F. Von Ostermann.

Oxon Hill Tournament.

The Suttland tournament was the largest Labor day celebration in the county. However, another tournament and ball were held on the grounds of the St. Ignatius Catholic church at Oxon Hill.

A supper was given by women of the Epiphany Episcopal church at Forestville; the carnival given by the Seat Pleasant Volunteer Fire and Home Improvement association at Seat Pleasant, which has continued for more than a week, was brought to a close; the carnival given by firemen at Capitol Heights was brought to a close; a carnival was held at the St. Barnabas Episcopal church at Leeland, and a community celebration was held in Bartlett park, Brentwood. The annual town carnival at Edmonston was called off on account of inclement weather.

Markets Not Often Together, Scalco Says

A denial that wholesale markets, farmers' row and retail markets most often are located together in other cities was made last night by Salvatore Scalco, president of the National Fruit Co., following a statement to that effect by A. J. Driscoll, president of the Mid-City Citizens association.

"Mr. Driscoll was misinformed when he said that the retail, commission and farmers' stands are located together in Baltimore," said Mr. Scalco. "The wholesale market in Baltimore is situated at Marsh Market space, between Baltimore and Pratt streets, while the retail markets are scattered all over the city."

Drugs and Whisky Store Thieves' Loot

Quantities of drugs, liquors, face powder and toilet articles were stolen early yesterday by thieves, who entered a drug store at Tenth and B streets northwest, and escaped without arousing the neighborhood.

The articles taken included codeine, morphine, heroin and opium valued at $12.25; 16 pints of Green River and Old Taylor whisky, valued at $25; bayrum and other lotions valued at $6; a hot-water bag and syringe valued at $1.50; cigars valued at $8.50 and perfumes valued at $5. Entrance was effected by a duplicate key. Headquarters Detective Weber is investigating.

Liquor-Laden Auto Is Found Abandoned

An abandoned Ford roadster, containing 17 half-gallon containers of alleged whisky, was discovered parked on Kramers street northeast, near the District line late yesterday afternoon, by Lieut. S. J. Marks, of the Ninth precinct. The automobile, carrying Maryland tags, was towed to the Ninth precinct, and efforts are being made to locate the owner. The car was discovered after Lieut. Marks, Sergt. N. O. Holmes and Policeman L. W. Wilson had gone to Kramer street on a "tip" that a load of liquor was to be run across the line.

Gasoline Station Robbed.

Gaining entrance by breaking a side window, thieves early yesterday morning stole a quantity of oil valued at $11.50 and a razor valued at $1.50 from the gasoline filling station at North Capitol and Massachusetts avenue northwest, according to a report made to the police of the Sixth precinct by James M. Sturges, of 517 Tenth street southeast, the manager.
